VANCOUVER (BUP)—Drug traffickers William (Silent Bill) Semenick's steadfast refusal to tell of an attempt on his life led to the dismissal of an attempted murder charge today against the second of two men charged with trying to kill him.

Magistrate Oscar Orr ordered police to free Eddie Sherban, 23, after Semenick again refused to testify against him in police court. Earlier, former semi-professional hockey player Joe Marcoux, 29, was freed when the magistrate dismissed a similar charge against him.

Future of air transportation between Victoria and Vancouver may take form similar to newest Sikorsky helicopter, the S-56, pictured above. TCA plans to switch from conventional aircraft to helicopter-type by 1959 or 1960, but has not decided what type of "whirly-bird" will be used. The S-56 is now made only in a military version, which carries 26 fully-equipped marines, but commercially it would carry about 40 passengers. In the air above the S-56 is the smaller S-55, a 12-place helicopter, which, with pilot, co-pilot, a safe margin of fuel and mail, could carry only seven or eight passengers.

BRITISH DOCK STRIKE TIES UP 196 SHIPS

LONDON (UP)—A three-day dock strike affecting five British ports grew worse tonight as government officials negotiated desperately to avert a nation-wide railway walk-out set for Saturday midnight.

A total of 196 ships, many carrying refrigerated or perishable food, were completely or partially tied up at the vital ports of London, Manchester, Liverpool, Hull and Birkenhead.

Meanwhile, there was no progress in government attempts to forestall a strike by 70,000 railway engineers and firemen.

Floods Tear 800-Ft. Gap

PORTAGE LA PRAIRIE, Man. (CP)—Floodwaters of the bulging Assiniboine River today continued to pour through an 800-foot gap of a south bank dike 10 miles east of here, and provincial government officials say nothing can be done immediately to halt it.

The floodwaters have swept overland and Tuesday night were flowing into the headwaters of the La Salle River, which was threatening to flood the town of Elie, 23 miles south-east of Portage la Prairie.

In anticipation of serious flooding at the town of about 150 residents, 300 soldiers, on duty on dikes along the Assiniboine in the Poplar Point area, were sent to the new threat zone Tuesday afternoon. The soldiers and some 150 volunteers were going all-out today in an attempt to build up a 600-yard dike on the west side of Elie.

TCA Official Says DC-3's to Remain In Interim Period

Helicopter service between Victoria and Vancouver in "four to five years" is the objective of Trans Canada Air Lines, Gordon M. Wood, TCA vice-president in charge of traffic and sales, said today.

In Victoria in the course of a tour of TCA divisions, Mr. Wood said the company plans to continue DC-3's on the run "until satisfactory helicopter-type aircraft is developed."

Then the present equipment will be replaced by helicopters, he said.

"Our best guess is the change-over will take place in 1959 or 1960," he said.

Mr. Wood could not say whether helicopters or some type of "convertiplane" would be used.

"Our engineering staff is studying developments—and they are coming thick and fast," he said.

The company has no idea as yet where the necessary heliports would be located, either here or in Vancouver.

"A downtown site is not necessarily the best site," he said. "It is a question of getting a site most convenient to the greatest number of travelers."

The Victoria-Vancouver route is a logical one for helicopters, Mr. Wood pointed out. The route is overwater; the aircraft would not need to fly low over residential areas; and extreme speed is not a factor on such a short run.

BETTER SERVICE
Meanwhile, stepped-up frequency of the present DC-3 service is planned for next year.

At present, three of these aircraft are assigned to the route—two in operation, one on standby or in for maintenance checks. The "spare" plane can be pressed into service on busy days, such as the Victoria Day holiday, when 11 extra round trips were flown.

As of June 23, TCA will be flying 17 scheduled round trips daily to the B.C. mainland, two more than the winter schedule, Mr. Wood stated.

"We are convinced the present equipment is best suited for the job until we switch to helicopter-type aircraft," he said.

"If we ordered new conventional-type planes to replace the DC-3's, we're convinced they would be obsolete before they were delivered."

U.K. Voters Edge Toward Labor Camp

Final Poll Reveals Swing to Attlee But Eden Confident

(United Press Staff Correspondent)

LONDON (UP)—The staunchly Conservative Daily Express reported a drop in Conservative voting strength today on the eve of Thursday's parliamentary elections, but Prime Minister Anthony Eden said, "I think we shall win."

The Daily Express, published by former Conservative minister Lord Beaverbrook, reported a Conservative sag of one-half of one per cent since May 18. This coincided with Anglo-American differences over the Big Four talks and a strike crisis at home.

The newspaper poll still predicted a three per cent margin for the Conservatives, which would give them a majority of "between 90 and 95 seats" in the House of Commons. But it was recalled in the last election the Conservatives sagged sharply just before the vote and ended up with a working majority of only 18 seats.

JEER CAMPAIGN

Eden took notice of the drop when he said, "good intentions will not win the election for us—only votes can do that."

Both major parties, in a last-minute attempt to swing votes, sent out teams of especially trained hecklers to break up opposition meetings with jeers and embarrassing questions.

Conservative party headquarters admitted groups of young Tories had been given special training as hecklers in secret schools.

PRIME TARGET

Eden, speaking in the Midlands, was a prime target for rowdy Laborites who tried to break up his rally at Stockport and followed his motorcade for three miles in sound trucks calling, "Vote Labor tomorrow... vote Labor tomorrow."

Cameron Lake Crash Takes Logger's Life

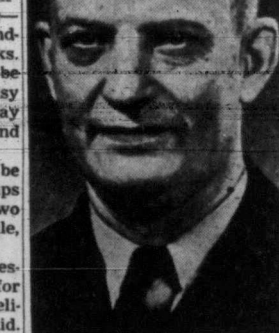

DONALD GAGNON, 34, suffered fatal injuries Tuesday evening when his car struck Pipeline Bridge on the Alberni Highway, near Cameron Lake.

He died while being taken to West Coast General Hospital in Port Alberni.

Police said the accident occurred at about 5:30 p.m.

The dead man, a logger at Northwest Logging Co. Ltd., was single and made his home at Parksville. His parents live at Chilliwack.

Dr. C. A. Jamison, Port Alberni coroner, will announce an inquest date later.

Rear Admiral Arleigh A. (31-Knot) Burke was nominated today by President Eisenhower to succeed Admiral Robert B. Carney as U.S. chief of naval operations. Burke, 53, famous Second World War destroyer leader, jumped over 90 admirals, vice-admirals and rear admirals who outranked him in seniority.

U.S. Favors July 18-21 For Big Four Talks

PARIS (UP)—French Foreign Minister Antoine Pinay said today President Eisenhower has agreed that July 18 to July 21 should be the dates for the Big Four chiefs of government meeting with Russia.

Pinay said the West wants the talks held at Lausanne, Switzerland, but that the Russians are holding out for other sites, notably Vienna.

He said the site for the Big Four talks "at the summit" will be definitely chosen when the four foreign ministers meet at San Francisco from June 20 to June 26.

The city of Lausanne has made it known it is ready to welcome the conference and that it could take all the necessary security measures.

Pinay said U.S. Secretary of State John Foster Dulles consulted Mr. Eisenhower on the proposed date of the conference. He said Dulles then made it known to the French government that the United States would accept July 18-21.

He made the announcement at the end of a cabinet meeting.

This would mean that Mr. Eisenhower, Soviet Premier Nikolai Bulganin, French Premier Edgar Faure and Sir Anthony Eden or Clement Attlee—depending on the outcome of the British elections—would meet for three days only.

The summit meeting would be preceded by a four-power foreign ministers' conference to lay the groundwork, according to the terms of the invitation the big three sent to Russia earlier this month.

Liberals Confident In P.E.I.

CHARLOTTETOWN, P.E.I. (BUP)—Voters trooped to the polls today to decide a straight-two-party battle in Prince Edward Island's provincial general election.

Some 61,000 persons were eligible to cast ballots but election officials predicted a light turnout because of listless campaigning. The weatherman forecast scattered showers and temperature in the low 70's.

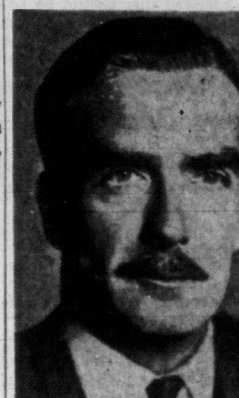

Premier A. W. Matheson, a burly 52-year-old lawyer, led the Liberal Party to the polls for the first time. He took office when the late Walter Jones was made a senator in May, 1953.

Observers said Matheson's party was a shoo-in. The Liberals captured 24 of the 30 seats in the legislature at the last election in 1951.

Former MLA Gordon Gibson will be given a second opportunity to prove his charges that "money talks" in granting forest management licences Thursday before the Sloan forestry commission.

Mr. Gibson was scheduled to arrive in Victoria today, and will appear before Chief Justice Gordon Sloan at Thursday's sitting of the commission.

The burly ex-logger quit his Squamish seat in the Legislature after refusing to testify before a special commission called to investigate his charges, headed by Judge Arthur Lord, in March.

He was the first MLA in B.C. history to be "named" out of the House, for failure to obey a Speaker's ruling to withdraw his charges against the government's forest administration.

Beauty Queen Must Reduce To Get Here

MANCHESTER, Eng. (CP)—A former beauty queen who once held the title "Goddess of Plenty" says she has been told to lose weight if she wants to emigrate to Canada.

Ethel Maude, 47, says she was ordered by a Canadian immigration officer in Liverpool to shed 14 of her 178 pounds. All prospective immigrants to Canada must pass a health examination.

Five feet seven inches tall, Miss Maude measures 42, 34, 44. She is due to sail for Canada in five days.

Miss Maude said: "I did not win 26 beauty contests for being skinny. I was the Marilyn Monroe of my day."

Two in Ontario Win Fortunes In Irish Sweep

Luck Runs Out
For B.C. Holders

(BUP and CP Dispatches)

A prosperous Niagara Falls realtor and a Windsor, Ont., brewery executive were Canada's big jackpot winners in today's Irish Sweepstakes based on the Derby at Epsom Downs.

Murray Ruta, 37, who operates a thriving real estate business in the Honeymoon City, and Fred Smith, 46, a district sales manager for O'Keefe's brewery in Windsor, won $140,000 each with their tickets on Derby winner Phil Drake.

Ruta was calm when told of his good luck, but Smith exclaimed that "I'm falling apart at the seams."

VICTORIANS GET $1,640

Two Victorians had starters in the race and will receive approximately $1,640 each. They are Mrs. Cora Robb, 1165 Fort Street, and Duncan McBride, 59 Cook Street. Both their horses failed to place.

Three other Victorians will draw $280 each consolation money.

"I thought they were just kidding when some of the boys came in and told me I was a winner," Smith said this morning at Windsor. "I've been walking around in a daze ever since."

Smith said he phoned home to inform his wife of his winnings. She just "laughed sort of hysterical-like."

"I figure I had better go home and see that she doesn't tear down the curtains," he added.

COLLEGE FOR SIX

Smith has six children, the oldest 14. He said he would use the tax-free windfall to put them through college.

Ruta, married, without children, said he probably would put the money into his business. He laughed at any idea of retirement. He is a veteran of Second World War and started the business when the war ended.

WON $56,000 A PIECE

Two other Canadians won $56,000 on second place Panaslipper, and two Toronto ticket holders earned $28,000 on the show horse, the favored Acropolis.

"Betty Storey" of Dryden, Ont., and "W.W.W." of Millville, N.B., held tickets on Panaslipper. The Torontonians with tickets on Acropolis were identified as Mrs. Minnie Horne and J. Reed.

Altogether, the six lucky Canadians won approximately $448,000.

MINOR PRIZES FOR B.C.

Six B.C. residents who drew horses will get about $1,640 each.

One B.C. ticket on an also-ran, Our Babu, was held by a seven-year-old boy, son of Lawrence George Halero, 30, a "cat" operator at 100-Mile House in the Cariboo. Mrs. Halero bought the ticket for the boy.

L. E. Jones of New Westminster held a ticket on Magnus.

ARMY-NAVY WINNERS

Winners in a Quebec Army and Navy sweepstakes based on the same race were Marcel Lapointe of Jonquiere, Que., who held a ticket on Phil Drake; M. J. Kirk, Toronto, with a ticket on Panaslipper, and T. H. Gray, Hamilton, with a ticket on Acropolis.

First place in the Quebec sweep is worth $26,000; second, $16,000, and third, $10,000.

Use of Lash in Canada Prisons Scheduled for Parliament Debate

By VICTOR J. MACKIE
Times Ottawa Correspondent
OTTAWA—The question of whether corporal punishment—punishment through the strap or lash—is to be continued in Canada will be debated during the next session of Parliament. It was learned here today.

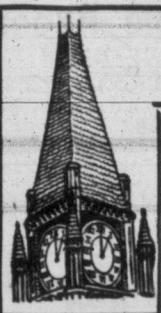

The joint committee on capital or corporal punishment will begin soon drafting its recommendations after lengthy hearings of witnesses. It is not expected there will be time at the present session for detailed discussions of changes in the existing law.

Whether or not the committee will recommend abolition of capital punishment remains to be seen. The consensus of opinion here is that capital punishment—execution—will be retained in Canadian law. But the method of execution has been under close study. Some members of the committee favor doing away with hanging and substituting the electrical chair or gas chamber, others favor retaining hanging.

However, punishment by the lash—corporal punishment—has been termed ineffective by a majority of the witnesses heard by the committee. It may also be influenced by the United Kingdom decision, after extensive studies some years ago, to abandon use of the strap and lash.

Attempt to Kill Government Bill Consolidating CNR Statutes Beaten

(From CP and BUP Dispatches)

The Commons voted 173 to 15 Tuesday to defeat an independent member's attempt to kill a government bill consolidating various CNR statutes into a single act.

Ross Thatcher (Ind., Moose Jaw-Lake Centre) received support only from Social Credit members and two other independents on his motion to give the measure a six-month hoist—a technical move which in effect would have killed the bill.

Mr. Thatcher's objection, expressed Monday night, was that the consolidation introduces a new provision which would permit the government-owned company to go into the business of trucking when it should stick to railroading.

Progressive Conservative and CCF members supported the Liberals in Tuesday's vote.

The measure later was given second reading—approval in principle—after Transport Minister Marler said he would amend it to meet one of the main objections: That CNR trucking operations would be outside provincial control.

He said the government had not intended this should be so. The amendment would stipulate that CNR trucking operations conform to provincial laws applying to persons generally.

leader in the Commons, was asked by Howard Green (PC, Vancouver Quadra) about the government's intentions on a proposed resolution to form the committee. The resolution, under Trade Minister Howe's name, has stood on the order paper since March 29 without being called for debate.

CCF member Stanley Knowles says it is wrong to leave it to the conscience of cabinet ministers whether they should hold directorships in private companies while serving the Crown.

The member for Winnipeg North Centre said Tuesday that Prime Minister St. Laurent is responsible for Revenue Minister McCann's continuance as a director of Guaranty Trust Co.

In the past, said Mr. Knowles, Commons members who compromised Parliament's independence resigned their seats. They were bound by a statute.

"But today the prime minister says it is all a matter of conscience when he has a colleague who is a director of a company who is administering estates, a director who, according to that company's advertising, gives his guidance and advice in such matters as succession duties."

Mr. Knowles spoke in support of his bill to bar cabinet ministers from being company directors. The bill was introduced after James Dempsey, Progressive Conservative member for Renfrew South in the last Ontario legislature, lost the support of Premier Frost for not reporting contributions of $6,800 in funds for his 1951 election campaign.

Private broadcasters Tuesday urged the government to end its policy of CBC monopoly on television outlets in Montreal, Toronto, Ottawa, Winnipeg, Vancouver and Halifax.

Appearing before the Commons broadcasting committee, officials of the Canadian Association of Radio and Television Broadcasters said television has reached the point at which the

About 300 persons were present at the Victoria Curling Club 8 p.m. hill-billy presentation. The 20 stars perform again tonight.

The LOM was billed of nearly $2,500 by a Hollywood fund-raising organization, and this factor is believed to have "frightened people away from our show," a spokesman said.

RCN Experts Trigger Mine

GILBERT BAY, B.C. (CP)—An echo of the Second World War rolled through the hills of the Queen Charlotte Islands as Lt.-Cmdr. Phillip Henry, 37, celebrated Victoria day and his 15th anniversary in the Royal Canadian Navy.

Lt.-Cmdr. Henry headed a mine demolition party to the southern-most tip of the islands to detonate a rusted war relic, a Japanese mine.

His 10-pound charge triggered the blast, which went off with the punch of 205 pounds of dynamite.

The mine had lain there for years, apparently tossed high above the waterline during a storm after floating to Canada's west coast on the Japanese current.

The demolition officer said more mines would almost certainly be discovered along the coast and that relics of the Korean police action could be expected to begin floating in in about another two years.

Hazelton Interdict Charged After Man Ambushed in Home

HAZELTON, B.C. (CP)—Ernest Harris, about 60, died of a gunshot wound here Sunday morning.

Green was arrested in the basement of the old Hazelton hotel, police said, surrounded by beer bottles, his .30-30 rifle nearby.

Police said Harris was shot through the window of his home as he rose from a chair to pick up a paper.

They said they had not determined a motive for the slaying but that it apparently arose from a Saturday night incident.

RCMP said Green went into the beer parlor of the old Hazelton hotel and ordered beer. Since he was an interdict, he was ordered out. He refused to go and pulled a knife, police said. Several miners disarmed Green and ejected him.

The Indian left, going to his home on the reservation and returned with a hunting rifle. RCMP said they believe he sat outside the Harris home until the man rose. The shot hit him in the hip and pelvis.

Raymond Harris' 10-year-old son, ran into the darkness screaming for help. Several neighbors came to Harris' aid.

'Unadulterated Rot' Says Drew

Harold Winch (CCF, Vancouver East) said opposition to the bill arises because private enterprise doesn't want competition from a company owned by the Canadian taxpayers.

George Drew replied that the CCF member's statement was "unadulterated rot."

Mr. Winch said he could not understand Conservative and Social Credit criticisms of the bill. As supporters of private enterprise they should support consolidation of the various CNR statutes which provided for competition and sound business methods.

Referring to Mr. Drew's speech Monday in which he suggested a new federal-provincial

No 'Official' Anthem Planned by PM

Prime Minister St. Laurent said Tuesday he is not prepared to bring in legislation to designate a national anthem for Canada.

He said he has given no thought to how "God Save The Queen" should be described but hoped it would offend no one to call it the "royal anthem."

Mr. St. Laurent was questioned at the house opening Tuesday as to what he meant Monday when he referred to "God Save The Queen" as the "royal anthem" in calling on the house to join in singing it on the Queen's birthday observance.

He had said that he and Opposition leader Drew wanted to suggest this.

Tuesday, Mr. Drew said he had talked to the prime minister privately about the singing, before the house opened, but there had been no mention in that conversation of "royal anthem."

"I was unaware of the words that were to be used," he said. John Diefenbaker (PC—Prince Albert) asked whether it is not a fact that "God Save The Queen" is Canada's national anthem.

Mr. St. Laurent said that to his knowledge it has not been adopted as such by an act of Parliament or proclamation. It had been adopted by subjects of the crown generally to express their devotion to the sovereign.

Many Canadians had adopted it. Others expressed their feelings through "O Canada."

Mr. St. Laurent said he has always regarded "God Save The Queen" as expressing devotion to the throne, which is an essential part of the Canadian structure that would remain as such.

"What is the national anthem of Canada?" asked Harold Winch (CCF—Vancouver East). "Is it 'O Canada' or 'God Save The Queen'?" If the prime minister is unable to give a definite answer, is he prepared to recommend a national anthem to the House?

Mr. St. Laurent replied: "I am not prepared to bring in anything that would establish by law a national anthem."

U.K. Election Is 'Cricket on Curate's Lawn'

1,409 Vie Quietly for 630 Seats In Britain's 4th Postwar Vote

By ALAN HARVEY
Canadian Press Staff Writer
LONDON (CP)—Britain's fourth post-war general election takes place Thursday, posing a straight choice between state Socialism and a Conservative brand of welfare capitalism. Forecasts favor the Conservatives.

In 50,000 polling booths throughout Great Britain and Northern Ireland four-fifths of the 35,000,000 electorate will decide among a total of 1,409 candidates for the 630 seats in the House of Commons. Voting will be between 7 a.m. and 9 p.m. British time and the first results will be made known an hour or so after the polls close.

(Initial returns should reach Victoria shortly after 1 p.m. on Thursday.)

The battle of the ballots is between the ruling Conservative party, led for the first time by Prime Minister Sir Anthony Eden, and Clement Attlee's Labor party. Both are contesting virtually every seat and are the only ones with a chance of forming the government.

The third party, the Liberals, has 110 candidates in the field. It is widely believed that Liberal supporters in other constituencies, deprived of a candidate of their own, may influence the outcome in close contests. In past elections, such "frustrated" Liberals tended to favor the Conservatives in a three-to-two ratio.

GENTEEL CAMPAIGN
The election climaxes a three-week campaign mostly as genteel as cricket on the curate's lawn. It had been heralded as Britain's first "TV election," but the 2½ hours of broadcasting time allotted the three parties apparently did not strike any real sparks in a jaded electorate.

Public opinion polls, and the growing band of British election analysts, give the Conservatives a good chance of strengthening their majority in the Commons. In the last House the Tory hold ranged between 15 and 20, enough to get by but too precarious for any big legislative program.

A common forecast is that this time the lead may be 50 or more, enough for a working majority.

This election is the first since 1832 in which no candidate will be returned unopposed. Sir Winston Churchill, in his 81st year, will be contesting his 15th general election. He was first a candidate, an unsuccessful one, in 1889.

With the mass vote of the Labor and Conservative machines assuring each party at least 200 seats each, the issue will be decided in 100 marginal seats, held by tenuous majorities in 1951 or made wide-open by boundary changes. Redistribution has affected 215 constituencies and experts say the changes probably will benefit the Conservatives by five to 10 seats.

Of the 100 vulnerable seats not affected by constituency changes, 35 are Labor and 34 Conservative, leaving the political soothsayer scant room for prophecy.

Two main campaigning points are the cost of living and the hydrogen bomb. Labor claims prices have risen to a greater extent under the Conservative regime than in any other country for which statistics are available. But Labor politicians — Aneurin (Nye) Bevan has admitted it — like a sieve, only he suddenly realized the 25-calibre bullets cost 7 cents each.

"At that price I should keep firing," he shrugged.

CAMPAIGN CULLINGS

By ARCH MacKENZIE
Canadian Press Staff Writer

LONDON (CP)—Cullings from the British election campaign: Canterbury candidates noted a large number of voters living at 48 Longport street—and found they were canvassing Canterbury prison when they called. Prisoners serving less than a year, and convicted after the electoral lists were completed Oct. 10, are entitled to vote by mail if their names are on the list.

DIFFERENCES HAZY
This tends to blur the differences between the parties.

The Tories are committed to the welfare state.

Of the 630 seats at stake, 511 are in England, 71 in Scotland, 36 in Wales and 12 in Northern Ireland. Scotland and Wales have a tradition of political stability, leaving England as the focus for the trend toward the next government.

Among members not standing for re-election is Baron Coleraine, formerly known as Richard Law and son of Bonar Law, Britain's only Canadian-born prime minister.

Results in 357 constituencies will be announced Thursday night and most of the rest will be made known Friday. Declarations in three Scottish constituencies will be delayed until Saturday.

FORSEES VICTORY

Eden publicly forecast re-election of his government. "I think we shall win," he told reporters in Birmingham Tuesday, "but I don't know by how many."

Labor apparently has pinned its hopes on prospects for a fine day and a big turnout. Party secretary Morgan Phillips said he believes Labor might get the support of more than 14,000,000 of the 35,000,000 registered voters. This would be an all-time record for any party.

Behind the apparent apathy lies a whole series of imponderables that might swing the election any way despite the predicted Conservative advantage. Foremost on the list is the effect of television. Leaders of both parties used TV to their arguments to the voters' firesides.

The general reaction, however, seemed that "What's Your Politics?" would never supplant "What's My Line?"

FOR ALL B.C.

Municipal Cemeteries Demanded

VANCOUVER (CP)—An order compelling every B.C. municipality to maintain a public cemetery will be sought by a Vancouver labor leader and an Anglican minister.

Vic Forster, secretary of the Vancouver Labor Council (CCL), and Rev. Stanley Higgs of St. Michael's Anglican Church are to appear in Victoria before the Public Utilities Commission hearing on cemetery regulations.

Mr. Forster said, "We are opposed to profits by way of the grave. There's no reason the PUC can't regulate cemeteries in the same way it regulates the B.C. Electric."

VICTIM OF VENDETTA?

Man With No Enemies Shot Dead on Street

TORONTO (CP)—A 30-year-old Italian carpenter who, friends said, "didn't have an enemy in the world," was shot four times Tuesday night by a gunman and staggered to his death on a rain-swept west-end sidewalk. He died clutching a six-inch stiletto.

Natale Brigante, who arrived in Canada four years ago, was shot on a service station parking lot at Dundas street west and Howard Park Ave. after leaving his home in response to a mysterious telephone call.

Police said they believe he met his death as a result of a vendetta which followed him across the Atlantic from his homeland.

Officers, led by an Italian-speaking detective, questioned Brigante's roommates and other members of the city's Italian colony seeking clues which might lead to the slayer. They believe the man fled from the scene of the shooting on foot.

Detectives said Brigante apparently lived in fear. He carried the stiletto in a sheath on his belt at all times for protection. Officers said many persons questioned in connection with the killing appeared afraid to talk.

Mrs. James McVicar, whose husband owns a restaurant near the scene, said she heard four shots followed by Brigante's screams and looked out to see the man stumbling along the sidewalk from the service station and away here.

Mrs. Elizabeth Raven ...

"like the bird" ... who lives in retirement at Homewood on Blenkinsop Road, was married to a London "bobby" until his death 13 years ago.

"London was a dreadful place in those days," she recalls. "There was all sorts of crime."

Born in Essex, she lived here for many years on Constance Avenue in Esquimalt. Her health is good, although she is frail. A couple of times weekly she goes for a car drive, and sometimes attends St. Luke's Church, of which she is a member.

WITHOUT GLASSES

She reads without glasses, and knits well-made socks.

On Tuesday friends dropped in. Atop a table were cookies, a bottle of grape juice, cake and a small element for making tea. Mrs. Raven makes her own tea and enjoys sipping and sitting with friends. The small neat room was filled with flowers.

She has had five children, all girls. A daughter, Mrs. Walter Hodges, lives in Saanich.

Attack on Highway Deaths

CANADA'S FIRST NATIONAL conference on highway safety opened yesterday in Ottawa under the sponsorship of the Canadian Good Roads' Association and supporting organizations.

As the delegates—and they included influential figures in the nation's public life and business—gathered, they found in their newspapers the sorry reports of fatalities which had occurred during the Victoria Day week-end, a dismal toll that accompanies any protracted holiday period in this country.

The conference was called to focus attention on the vital importance of highway safety, to exchange views on ways of reducing the waste of human life and resources on the roads and streets of the nation, to formulate recommendations for a program of action, and to consider a permanent Canadian highway safety organization.

The urgency of the need for such action was written in black type in the press reports of week-end deaths. It is emphasized in the dismal statistics which record an annual total of 3,000 people killed on Canadian roads, tens of thousands injured and $100 million worth of property destroyed.

Tomorrow, reports will be submitted to the conference proposing the means by which a Canadian highway safety program can be implemented.

Any such program will cost money. Funds are needed to provide better engineering, better constructed roads. They are needed to cover costs of enforcement, driver training and examination, education and all the other aspects of street and highway safety.

But delegates have already noted that Canadians are paying a heavy price for what measure of safety they have now, coupled with a tragic price in the cost of accidents.

C. W. Gilchrist, managing director of the Canadian Good Roads' Association, chief sponsor of the gathering in Ottawa, draws a comparison between the costs of war and those of highway safety.

"Make no mistake about it," he writes, "our traffic slaughter is a national emergency, our bloodstained highways the battleground. The war against traffic accidents will be one of long duration. It cannot be won overnight or by some magic means. It will be hard, unrelenting, but tough as it is, it is worth fighting."

That is the attitude of men now assembled at the first Canadian Conference on Highway Safety. They are determined to make headway against a cause of death which has taken more Canadian lives since the end of the Second World War than were lost in land battles in which Canadian troops fought in Sicily, Italy, France, Belgium, Holland, Germany and Korea.

The success of their efforts will depend largely on the support they receive from the people of this country—particularly the drivers. That support should be forthcoming as soon as Canadians realize that the highway death toll last week-end merely accentuates a condition which persists throughout the year.

While Thousands Cheered

ONCE AGAIN VICTORIANS turned out in their thousands to view a May 24 parade (although this year it was on May 23) and they were not disappointed. Beauty, ingenuity, comedy and variety combined to produce a very creditable spectacle. There was criticism, as there must always be, but there was also hearty commendation and approval. To those who organized the parade, and to those who took part in it, the community owes a vote of thanks.

The public goodwill earned by the entries raises the question of participation. Many Greater Victorians remember the days when dozens of floats were on view. Yet many of the firms that made the event such a success in those days were missing Monday. Admittedly there is considerable expense and effort entailed in preparing a worthy entry. Yet all Greater Victoria sees the result, and in a setting which induces the maximum of appreciation and receptiveness. If such a situation is the essence of good advertising, then many potential commercial participants are missing a good thing.

The visiting United States drill corps and bands were welcome additions and it is to be hoped that more adequate financial arrangements in future years may extend this feature of the parade. The armed services, as usual, formed a popular and vital portion of the proceedings. The Motorcycle Club performed with the ability that has become expected of this organization, and racial groups provided colorful entries.

To name all who deserve mention would be to list the whole procession. Those who took part will know that they contributed substantially to a traditional Victoria celebration and helped to perpetuate a local observance of major holiday importance.

Yalta and the Two-Edged Knife

MR. JAMES ROOSEVELT, Democratic representative of California, has scored a neat point in comment on the political release of the Yalta papers.

Speaking to the Women's National Democratic Club in Washington the other day, the son of the former president noted that Mr. Eisenhower said he hoped the conference between himself and the premiers of Britain, France and the Soviet Union would be informal.

"But how," asks Mr. Roosevelt, "can there ever be another informal conference with an American representative when others in that conference know that the conversation might be—and probably will be—released for a political purpose?"

Mr. Roosevelt, no mean politician himself, has scored nicely. He reveals, in a way his fellow Americans can appreciate, one of the unhappy results of Republican strategy in making the Yalta "chit-chat" public. At the same time he raises a point which might lead to a further development. If there are to be informal discussions, then they should be set down in writing at the time and approved by all concerned. Perhaps in that way, some measure of confidence lost by the unusual release of the Yalta papers may be restored.

A Thought or Two on the Parade

ONE of the most welcome sights in Monday's parade was the float entered by Chief Mungo Martin and his Kwakiutl Indian dancers. Amid all the bands and marchers, the modern floats and up-to-date entries, here was a pleasant reminder of earlier times, of Victoria Days long ago when the Indian population was much larger and more in the consciousness of the city. It was good to see this entry. It is to be hoped there will be one every year.

Moore & Whittington's earned praise for their fine float. It, too, was a reminder of earlier days—when the commercial section of the parade was the backbone of the event and firms competed with their ornate and clever creations to draw the greatest applause.

With a full appreciation of costs and work involved, one wonders what has changed in the community to discourage these efforts. Adequate prize money, or lack of it, cannot be the answer. The return was in public appreciation. Did this prove too fickle to make the effort worth while? Or is there a loss of community spirit, a decay of the old Victoria-at-play atmosphere, that made the earlier celebrations the big event of the year?

The Carpenters' Union had an interesting entry—an assembly of slides, swings and playground equipment donated by the organization to the Cerebral Palsy Association. The thought occurred: why do not other sections of organized labor put entries in the parade? It would demonstrate a nice touch of community spirit that the people would appreciate. At comparatively little cost a message could be delivered and a large amount of good will won.

The Danish Canadian Association had a tasteful float featuring Hans Christian Andersen—particularly appropriate in this year which celebrates the 150th anniversary of his birth. Chinese entries also added a welcome sparkle to the occasion. But one missed other entries by racial segments of the population which in other years have been a colorful part of Greater Victoria-in-review—the Sikhs, the Welsh group, the Irish, and others. It's good for Victorians to see what is being done by these groups, how they are making valuable contributions to our community life. A float in the parade is an excellent way to give the rest of us a pleasant reminder. In this connection it was interesting to see that many of the school bands and other groups included children of Chinese origin—a very promising trend.

It didn't take much imagination to visualize what would happen in this city in case of an emergency evacuation. With automobile traffic moving three abreast out Government and Douglas Streets, there was bound to be congestion where these two avenues meet. People in a holiday mood were not much put out by the consequent slow progress and waiting. Nobody was in too much of a hurry and there were no accidents.

But fill those cars with trembling families, put the wall of air raid sirens in the background, put a great burden of fear on each driver, and the results could have

Is It Beginning to Melt?

Chips

BY DAVID BROCK

I AM very fond of rummage sales. For one thing, I often pick up quite extraordinary books there, for about a nickel each. The sort of books you don't see anywhere else. Last winter I got a very fine copy of a temperance song-book, containing such unexpected lines as "Pure water makes good sinews and the best of bone." And of course rummage sales offer many things besides cockeyed books. Broken toasters, for example, for anyone who likes broken toast. Old jackets with everything on them from soup to nuts . . . a rummage sale is probably the only place in the world where clothing could be moved over into the grocery department. I can imagine a moth at a rummage sale saying to another moth "Hi, what are we eating? Wool or goulash?"

And not only old jackets, but cross old people trying the old jackets on. If I were a draughtsman, I'd find some good gnarly old faces to draw, peering out at me from the clothes-racks. Ethnologists tell me that one way of dividing the human race is into five groups: white, black, brown, yellow and rummage.

WELL, a certain church was having a rummage sale, not too long ago. A church to which I have not the honor of belonging. And off I went to the sale, hoping to add to my collection of incredibly goofy books. I didn't find anything very staggering. But I was interested in the people who were buying and selling, and in the collections of junk.

As I left the hall, a pal of mine was passing, and he asked me with perhaps more curiosity than courtesy what I had been doing in such a place. So, either because I was embarrassed at being caught or because I am a firm believer in answering a fool according to his folly, I said kindly that I am a student of comparative theology. Especially in the field of anthropology. I found I can tell quite a lot about a congregation by what it is throwing out, and in two ways: first, by the fact that it once thought these objects valuable enough to acquire; and second, by the fact that it is now getting rid of them.

TO the eagle-eye of an anthropological comparative theologian and rummage-watcher, the sales of one church differ vastly from those of another. For example, at the sale I was just leaving I had been offered a plastic bird-cage with bars so gross that the bird couldn't see out and his captor couldn't see in. I had never seen such a cage before and I felt it was highly symbolic in some way that was just too subtle for me so early in the morning.

BARTER

DO you want more news about our village, besides rummage sales? Very well. We have a local paper that comes out once a week. It began by being pure advertising, and was of course delivered free. It then began to print local news, and made itself quite valuable in this way . . . perhaps it diluted most of the local gossip a bit too thinly, but the laws of libel are ever uncertain and one must be careful. In its new form, the paper began to urge the reader to become a paid-up subscriber instead of a free recipient.

This put the reader in an awful fix. He felt sure he would still get the paper whether he paid or not, because the owner was also in an awful fix. If the owner's circulation was confined to paid-up subscribers, you see, the advertisers would stop advertising, or cut away down on it.

THE reader didn't want to play a disloyal and dirty trick on the paper, paying nothing for value received. Yet it is hardly fair to ask a human being to decide between paying two bucks a year and not paying two bucks a year for something he's going to get anyway. The usual solution to this problem is a compromise. That is to say, the reader feels he should pay and then forgets to pay. If he is reminded too often, he then gets indignant at being pestered and says "OK, I'm cross now and I won't pay, and it's all your fault for pestering me. Up till now, I was going to pay." The reader then feels fine. No more problems.

Well, the other day a neighbor asked me how I solved the problem, and I rather glibly said that sometimes I paid (in the far off and virtuous past), and often I didn't (in the wicked present). He said this was a mean trick on his friend the owner. And I said "All right, tell your pal that in exchange for a year's subscription I will send him, outright, and for his own use, a brand-new poem on some local theme. Mind you, it will be strictly a two-dollar poem . . . make that clear to him."

I THOUGHT no more about it till this morning's mail brought me a bill from our local paper. It said "To one year's subscription, one short poem." I've never had a bill like that before. It made me glad I live in a village where barter can still exist.

THE CANADIAN COMPARISON

The May 16 issue of the Times contained one of the now too familiar dissertations about those people living on the other side of the Atlantic being the only ones who really "know how to live."

The four main indictments against Canadians are indirectly made as (1) the pursuit of money, (2) the lack of "village greens," (3) the inability to enjoy leisure time, (4) drunkenness.

To refute these points in order (1) it has always seemed paradoxical that, while the materialistic Canadians (and Americans) are living in their own countries because they were born here and choose to remain because it is to them a good place to be, the aliens prefer to leave their native land solely because money can be more quickly acquired in North America; they tolerate a lifetime in our materialistic society just for its sake. Which attitude is the more mercenary?

(2) "Village greens." Have our Canadian critics never enjoyed the parks of Toronto, Montreal, New York, ever heard of quaint Boston Commons in the heart of the business section? Is the stillness of St. Patrick's on humming Fifth Avenue, Notre Dame in Montreal, the Basilica at Hamilton, lost on them?

(3) Leisure. I have always noted that the immigrants to Canada are paragons of industry. As a Canadian, I have been impressed by the disregard for leisure time and statutory holidays of the new arrivals. Is this habit of "enjoying life" brought with them from their mother country?

(4) Drunkenness. I've heard this one before about drunkenness being a rare sight in Europe (or the U.K.). On the other hand, I've seen a consistent, constant consumption of liquor from morning to night on the part of my European acquaintances, a steady intake of alcohol not commonly matched in North America. Is this entirely superior to the Canadian binge?

I do not want to leave you with the impression that I am criticizing the new Canadians. I know of their enthusiasm for their adopted country and I believe that they would be as disgusted with this current attitude that all good things and all fine standards are across the ocean, as I am. This affection seems peculiar to Canadians who have done a bit of travelling. (Miss) NANCY K. SPIERS, 1337 Rockland.

DOWN IN THE MOUTH

I am tired of reading the erroneous ideas, usually derogatory or purveying a distorted idea of the dental profession and other professions, written in letters to the newspapers by not fully-informed people. These ideas are also often spoken in public places, and quoted or generalized in the newspapers. As a dentist, I beg a little space to express myself on this matter and put one facet of this problem, as I see it, into public view.

I make at present dental plates of the modern type at $60 a denture, and when you add to this approximately $30 for many full extractions—the full price approximates at $150, and this includes several adjustments and possibly some small linings. I believe and know that there are many other dentists locally, and farther afield, who approximate this price closely. Especially cast dentures in gold or vitallium metal, of course cost more, but relatively few of these are made.

I noticed in our dental journal a short time ago the average net full-time dental income averages around $7,000 a year for Canada, medical incomes around $15,000, chiropractic incomes around $11,000, and I forget what some of the others averaged, but the dental incomes were among the lowest.

There is no combine in the dental profession. The dental association does not set prices. Fees vary according to individual dentists and various types of work. This occurs in many other types of professions, businesses and trades. Many unions, I judge, are much more rigid in price than professions, and I believe, that the man who works at a wage or fee below what the union accepts may have a hard time of it. Not so in the professions; some work is done at a little above cost, and if the bill is not collected fully, some is done below cost.

By the time a dentist pays his rent, supplies, labour, nurse, telephone, equipment charges, laundry, insurance, heavy license fees (city, professional, surgical and association) and other incidentals, the monthly overhead will average out around $500 in a moderately busy city practise. Much of this goes on, whether he is sick or well. When sick his income stops. At this time he may begin to wonder and envy the salaried executive with his holiday pay, sick benefits and pension schemes.

Has Soviet Policy Changed?

BY STEWART ALSOP, From Washington

IS it possible that the Russians really do want a general European settlement, on terms which the West could accept? For the first time in many years, American diplomats and policymakers are seriously debating this question with each other. The heart and soul of any general settlement must be, of course, a German settlement. Agreement on Germany, on terms acceptable to the West, would require a drastic change of policy in the Kremlin. As previously reported here, the majority official view is that any such basic change is highly unlikely.

Yet some officials have been having second thoughts on this score. There have been intriguing hints that the Russians might arrive at the forthcoming meeting at the summit prepared to negotiate seriously about Germany. Some of these hints have been public. Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov's cryptic remarks on the occasion of the signing of the Austrian treaty. But there have also been private hints, and these have been a lot more specific than anything the Soviets have said in public.

UNOFFICIAL CHATS

Soviet diplomats and officials, whether in Russia or Western Europe or the United States, have been talking to Westerners with far more freedom than at any time in at least a decade. These unofficial chats have resulted in some surprises. Here, for example, is the formula for a German settlement outlined by a Soviet diplomat in one such informal conversation:

First, staged withdrawal from Germany of all foreign troops. The Soviet troops, it was said, would be withdrawn behind the borders of the Soviet Union. But, the Soviet official remarked, if the United States insisted, American troops could be stationed elsewhere on the continent, rather than withdrawn across the Atlantic.

Second, supervised free elections throughout Germany—though just how the elections would be supervised, or how free they would really be, was left very much up in the air.

Third, an advance agreement by Germany and the Western powers to regard the Oder-Neisse Line as "settled." Much emphasis was laid on this point.

Fourth, in every other respect, full sovereignty for the new all-German government resulting from the elections. Specifically, the Germans would have the right to join NATO, although the confidence of the belief was expressed that the Germans would be "more sensible," and that they would form a "third force." This, of course, was the most surprising item on the list.

Finally, there would be some rather vaguely defined, all-European security arrangement, of the sort already proposed by Molotov, to guarantee this arrangement. Both the United States and the Soviet Union would be included.

If this sort of Soviet proposal were formally made at the meeting at the summit, it would certainly require some serious negotiation despite its ambiguities.

No German government could afford to reject such proposals outright. And although informal chats commit no one, it is at least interesting that Soviet officials should be talking in this vein. It could even mean that the Kremlin has been making its own agonizing reappraisal.

ECONOMIC DIFFICULTIES

The Western alliance, after all, is no longer a house of cards which threatens to collapse at every Soviet puff. The Soviets are having real economic difficulties at home. The Kremlin might thus logically conclude that the time had come for a limited disengagement from Central Europe.

Even supposing the United States retained the right to keep forces on the continent, the disengagement would be by no means unilateral. If they were denied German bases, probably five-sixths of the American forces would have to go home, simply because there is nowhere else for them to go. And four British divisions would also go back across the Channel.

For the rest, it might seem to the Soviets that there was not a great deal to lose, and much to be gained. Most of Germany that matters, above all the industrial Ruhr, is already in NATO and preparing to rearm. A new all-German government, with the neutralist Socialists strengthened by East German votes, might indeed be "sensible" and stay out of NATO, however anti-Communist the government might be. At least German rearmament would be indefinitely delayed.

POSSIBLE GAINS

For such certain or possible gains, restless East Germany might well be deemed expendable. Even the loss of the East German uranium mines, and the disastrous and embarrassing defeat of the East German Communists at the polls, might not seem an impossibly high price. Again and again in recent years, there has been half-nervous, half-hopeful speculation that the Soviets were at last ready to negotiate seriously for a German settlement, and to withdraw from the heart of Europe. Always in the end the speculation has proved wrong, and most informed officials believe that the Russians are not yet really ready to take the great risks involved.

Yet some wise officials now think it possible that the Soviets at last may be willing to pay a high price for a settlement—a price so high that we ought to be thinking seriously about accepting it. Otherwise, they believe, the Europeans, especially the Germans, may accept it whether we like it or not.

Logging Road Given Approval By Water Board

$30,000 Yield in 10 Years;
Mayor Contends Deal Illegal

A logging road lease across a corner of the Sooke Lake watershed is expected to yield up to $30,000 in 10 years to Greater Victoria Water Board.

The board Tuesday signed a lease agreement with McCarter Shingle Co. Ltd., against the wishes of Mayor Claude Harrison, board chairman, who refused to attend the signing.

He says the deal is illegal.

After the lease was signed, the board set aside the funds accruing from the road for a chlorination plant for Sooke harbor. Sooke is the only area in the district which has unchlorinated water. About 300 residents use the system there.

ILLEGAL

The board elected Reeve Joseph Casey as temporary chairman, then heard letters from the mayor and the board solicitors.

The mayor charged the board action was not in the public interest but solely for benefit of a private logging interest. He said such action is illegal and every member of the board was personally liable. He said he absented himself from the meeting to separate himself from the question.

The board felt that in permitting the logging firm to short-cut across the watershed it is providing fire access. The board lawyer supported the move.

PROTECTION

"We are protecting the water district," said Reeve Fred Norris of Oak Bay.

Alternative to the leased route would have been the logging trucks would have to use the much longer route along the east side of Sooke Lake, on a government road, which is not controlled by the board.

This, the board felt, would have meant a greater possibility of pollution. The leased route is five miles from the lake.

The agreement may not go into effect for two years as the company must make further negotiations with the E and N Railway.

The logging firm will pay about $1,500 for the timber on the proposed roadway and will have to build a road suitable for use by normal trucks.

MONEY-MAKER

It will have to pay rental of $500 annually even if the road is not used.

But the big money-maker is the clause which calls for a $1 toll for every 1,000 feet of lumber brought out over the road. The road will extend from the company's operation at Jarvis Lake to Grant Lake. It will be leased on a five-year agreement subject to renewal. Similar leases have been permitted in the Goldstream watershed. But in this case the toll is double what has been charged before.

Cost of a chlorination plant for Sooke was estimated at $11,000. Commissioner Ron Upward suggested that it might be built in the fall of 1956.

KILLED CLERK? — William Davidson is manager of the Toronto-Dominion Bank branch in central Toronto, held up by two armed men. Davidson was engaged in a crossfire with the two men in which a bank clerk was fatally wounded. RCMP tests are being made to determine which gun killed the clerk but local police are satisfied, from testimony of witnesses, that .38 calibre slug was fired by manager's gun.

Fluoridation Issue Facing Council Vote

Union Board of Health to Press for Use
Of Fluorides; Sammon Convinced of Value

Victoria and Esquimalt councils will be asked soon to endorse the introduction of fluorides in local water supplies.

This was indicated today as G. K. Sammon, chairman of the Union Board of Health of Victoria and Esquimalt, said he will include the issue in the agenda of the board's June meeting.

"I am completely satisfied as to the benefit to the public," he said.

He added that he believes the board will be guided by the firm stand for fluoridation which has been taken by acting medical health officer, Dr. Elizabeth Mahaffey.

Cl. Sammon pointed out it will not be the first time the board has given consideration to fluoridation.

It was proposed earlier by board members and school trustee, Richard Reeve. Later Mr. Reeve withdrew his support as a member of the board.

The board action will be the first positive step after months of discussion and argument in this area over fluoridation.

But the fact that Saanich and Oak Bay share the common water supply means they will have to be in favor before the city and Esquimalt could alter their system.

A poll of aldermen showed some hesitancy to discuss the matter before giving it further study.

Ian McPherson Gets Master of Law Degree

Ian E. McPherson, son of Dr. Thomas McPherson, 956 Esquimalt Road, today received his master of law degree in international air law from McGill University, Montreal.

Mr. McPherson joined the CNR-TCA legal department in Montreal in 1952. Born here, he received his early education at Shawnigan Lake School and graduated from University of British Columbia with an arts degree in 1948.

He received the DFC in the last war while attached to the RAF Bomber Command overseas.

Kemano Death Murder Signs Seen By RCMP

Woman Didn't Die Where Body Found

KEMANO (CP)—The possibility of murder in the strange death of Mrs. Joan Keebler, 26, grew here today with the police announcement that she did not die at the spot where her body was found.

She was found dead on Friday the 13th, probably from suffocation, on a lonely road at this aluminum power development 400 miles north of Vancouver.

RCMP said Tuesday night it would have been impossible for her body to have fallen into the position in which it was found.

DURING DARK

They said the body was probably placed beside the road during the dark, but were unable to explain how it could have lain there, with trucks passing, until nearly noon.

Police said there were razor-blade marks on her wrists, but none of them were deep enough to have caused death.

RCMP officers said they were trying to find where in the sprawling power camp the woman died.

Scrapings from her fingernails will be analyzed to see if she fought for her life. Contents of her stomach were in Vancouver being analyzed to learn if she had been drugged.

Assiniboine Flood Crests At Full Fury

Final Lunge Believed Near In Worst Outbreak Since 1923

BY WALTER GRAY
Canadian Press Staff Writer
WINNIPEG (CP)—Not since 1923 has the Assiniboine River raised such a fuss.

For weeks the bloated river has been twisting across the southern Manitoba plains, sending its flood waters into cities and towns and over rich farmlands.

Now, swollen to new heights by the spring fury that struck Saskatchewan May 3, the Assiniboine's flood crest is making what is hoped will be its final lunge of the season.

Qu'Appelle Cloudburst Started Torrent

Once the ice was cleared the river dropped rapidly, falling to 1,176.61 feet above sea level by May 9. That was six days after the cloudburst hit Saskatchewan and western Manitoba. It took those six days for the new flood crests to hit Brandon.

The Assiniboine's upper reaches stretch northward into west, central Manitoba. At St. Lazare, near the Saskatchewan border, it is joined by the Qu'Appelle river, southern Saskatchewan's drainpipe.

The Qu'Appelle was then in its greatest flood in recorded history. It was this torrent that swept through Saskatchewan towns and farmlands to St. Lazare where it joined the already-swollen Assiniboine. This combination, plus the flow from the Souris river sweeping northeastward to its junction at Wawanesa, raised the Assiniboine to four times its normal spring-flood peak.

Officials estimate the Assiniboine now is carrying 22,500 cubic feet of water a second, 500 less than the 1953 record. It is 1.1 feet below the 1923 level and .9 feet above the level reached in 1948, the years of the last severe flooding.

REACHED PEAK MAY 20

The Assiniboine reached a peak of 1,180.1 feet above sea level at Brandon May 20, climaxing days of flood-fighting in the city.

The flood crest now has passed out of the Assiniboine valley on to the Portage plains. During the last few years the Prairie Farm Rehabilitation Administration has constructed 30 to 40 miles of earthen dikes along the river between the hamlets of High Bluff and Poplar Point.

The flood crest now is at its full fury in this area. Anticipating flood conditions, provincial and local governments pressed work crews into action, strengthening and raising the dikes that were built only to withstand a flood equalling that of 1948.

But the swollen river began gouging away at its soft banks and earthen dikes. It broke through in the Poplar Point Flooding exceeded by far what the Manitoba flood-fighting committee predicted. Last March, on the basis of a snow survey, the committee, headed by B. B. Hogarth, director of the provincial water resources branch, forecast the river possibly would flood the flatlands north of Brandon.

That it did, during the first week of April. At Portage la Prairie the Assiniboine swirled through the city's southeastern outskirts and at Brandon lowlands were swamped.

area and spewed its excess over farm lands on the north side.

Sunday night the river bored through the dike again, creating a hole 800 feet wide.

LA SALLE "ESCAPE"

Floodwaters tumbled over farm lands, threatening the village of Oakville, 10 miles southeast, and by Tuesday they found an escape route in the La Salle river 14 miles east. The tiny La Salle began rising rapidly and 300 soldiers sped to Elie to build an 800-yard-long dike on the west side of the community.

Kenya Captures Mau Mau Chief

NAIROBI, Kenya (Reuters)—Mau Mau gang leader "General Russia" was captured and 17 terrorists were killed Tuesday as British security forces unleashed the full force of "Operation Gimlet," their renewed forest campaign.

Eleven members of the anti-white cult were killed in the Aberdare Forest, including five accounted for by a police reserve unit. Six more Mau Mau were killed and a woman and four men were captured in a battle with 60 terrorists on a British settler's farm at Nanyuki, 100 miles north of Nairobi. A phosphorous grenade, home-made guns and ammunition were seized by police, who killed four terrorists in another forest action.

IT'S MY VIEW

By BILL WALKER, Sports Editor

The week-end in review, or despite the allegations of a certain member of the Victoria School Board, it certainly was refreshing to see so many youngsters playing baseball. . . . Glad, too, to see the senior Chamber of Commerce go to the plate for the junior jaycees in their bid for additional playing fields for the kids. . . . Sound reasoning will solve the problem fellows . . . please!

An interesting epistle appeared on the desk over the week-end, contributed no doubt by one of the elite who hold that cricket is the one and only—or is it really "Cricket"?

What we mean is, as the piece suggests, is "Cricket" the true name of the game. The article points out that a book of rules and definitions published some three centuries ago was titled: "Ye Sportinge Cyde to Clickete." In example, the definition of a batsman is simple. It reads: "Ye batter must bang ye balle mightily at alle tymes or be throwne downe and another take his place."

It has been suggested, because there is no authority for the present name, that when batsmen ceased to "bang ye balle mightily," so that the "click" became an unfamiliar sound, a sporting squire was heard to shout, "Cricket, click it."

This was taken up as the battle cry of the spectators, until gradually the despairing wail of those who would turn sloggers into batsmen rather than batsmen into sloggers, became "Cricket."

Or so the story goes, all contributions being gratefully received.

While on the subject of quotes of a quotable nature, and with appreciative deference to the Little Leaguers, their parents, and the coaches, it might do here to get a Little League mother's views.

(Mr. Harold Whitfield, please note, Mr. Whitfield being the elected representative of the school board who prides himself on being well apart from the "well-intentioned morons" who cater to Little League, the dangerous sport that it is!)

The following is taken from the "Little Leaguer" magazine:

Baseball Mother

The game of baseball used to be just faintly understood by me. Hitter, home run, mound and walk. Were just a lot of menfolk's talk. But since the Little League is here I'm yearning more and more each year. And as I sit up in the stands I hold my head and wring my hands. And with my heart I pitch each ball I swing the bat and hear the call. When at homeplate the "ump" calls "out" I plead, I rant, I stomp and shout. Until I realize with shame, That this is just the children's game.

We start the dinner now at four, And in and out my kitchen door They come and go and eat and run. Let they be late and miss some fun. And when I leave I must confess My sink is sometimes quite a mess. Filed high with dinner's pots and pans So I can be in the cheering stands.

And when the game is played and o'er And our boys chalked the losing score A lemon soda cold and tart, Soon mends the loser's broken heart. Of course a win or one good hit, Deserves a big banana split. And when I see them tucked in bed So many times at night I've said, When sleep has quieted all the noise, "Thank God for baseball for our boys."

GERALDINE WELSH
(Mother of two Little Leaguers)

Nanaimo Timbermen play here tonight and if there is a better attraction to be presented we haven't heard of it. . . . The Rocks seemingly have found themselves after an inauspicious debut, and Saturday's boxla triumph at Nanaimo was in the nature of a slap in the face to the Timbermen and their dreams of western conquest. . . . Word is that Saturday's contest was the best in recent years, and best of all, was clean, hard-hitting lacrosse with both teams sticking to the business at hand, which is the way the game should be played and, it is hoped, will be played here tonight. . . . This is the way that lacrosse will benefit and, as one opinion, the league officials are to be congratulated for their attempts to cut down on rough and dangerous play. . . .

It was also a healthy sign for local sports, the overflow crowds at the holiday softball tournament, the good turnout at the Senior baseball exhibition, the near capacity crowd at the Pony League opening, and the tired figure of a little leaguer's father seen trudging home late Monday night, a scythe in hand, after completing his duties as groundsman at the park. . . .

Pils Shade Indians To Share Boxla Lead

Pilseners 8, Indians 6

VANCOUVER (CP) — The defence-strong Mount Pleasant Indians dropped their fourth straight intercity lacrosse game Tuesday, going under 8-6 at the hands of the offense-strong Vancouver Pilseners.

Pilseners used the win as a stepping-stone to a first-place tie, using their high-gear "hit 'em and run" technique to the best advantage.

Co-holders of the top spot in the league are the Nanaimo Timbermen. Each team has six points on three wins and two losses.

Only some sparkling net minding by Stan Joseph kept the score against the Indians from going higher. Joseph stopped 34 shots, more than his team returned.

Indians, whose slow-rolling attack gave the Pils time to get set and meet them solidly, also suffered in the penalty department. Pils scored three of their goals while Indians had a man sitting in the box.

Teams were deadlocked 1-1 after the first period, but Pils moved to a 3-2 advantage at the half, increased it to 8-4 in the third frame and were blanked 2-0 in the last.

South Africa Downs MCC

LONDON, (Reuters) — South African cricketers gained the first victory of their tour of England Tuesday when they beat the Marylebone Cricket Club by 93 runs with an hour and a half to spare at Lords here.

The game hung in the balance this morning when the South Africans, who made 185 for nine declared in their first innings, lost their last five wickets in their second knock for only eight runs in 45 minutes. The damage was done by 22-year-old Fred Titmus, who had a remarkable spell of five wickets for three runs in seven overs with his offbreaks. The South Africans were all out for 184 and Titmus finished with eight for 45—the best performance of his first-class career.

NANAIMO DEFENCEMEN HEAD SCORING PARADE

Rocks Host Timbermen Tonight

There's scarcely an outfielder in baseball who doesn't feel he is a potential 20-game winning pitcher nor a grimy-faced lineman who does not in his dreams see himself starring as a triple-threat backfielder, reaping the glory denied him in the line.

Lacrosse defencemen commiserate with each other with tall stories about the goals they would score if only the forwards weren't always controlling the ball in goal-scoring territory.

This year, many of those wistful defencemen are looking at each other with surprise, because their wildest dreams are coming true. The laboring defencemen, formerly relegated to mundane checking and retrieving loose balls, are setting the scoring pace.

One need go no further than tonight's game between Victoria Shamrocks and Nanaimo Timbermen, at Memorial Arena.

Taking Nanaimo first, they are setting the pace in the individual scoring statistics. Heading the league, with 16 points, is John Lumley, who has been alternating between forward and defence. Tied for second place are spunky Lisle Scott and playing coach Arnie Duggan, both full-time rearguards and both owners of 14-point totals. One point behind them is import Perry Davies. He's a defenceman, too. Jim McNulty, their highest-scoring regular forward, has 12 points.

For the Shamrocks, defence Bill Bamford and forward Jack Bionda are the team's leading scorers, both with eight points. Victoria defencemen have scored over one-third of the Shamrock's goals so far this season. One of the most consistent Shamrock players has been defenceman Al Davies, who is playing his first full-time season with the Irish.

The husky Davies dressed for the first game of the season as utility but did not appear in the game. In his second game, against New Westminster, he scored a goal on his first floor-shift and against Vancouver Pils last week. Davies fired two goals. He followed up Saturday night by sniping three more against Nanaimo. The Rocks' four defencemen have scored a total of 16 goals.

Approaching tonight's long anticipated battle from another angle, Rock coach Red McMillan is not ready to panic over the apparent power of the Nanaimo team. McMillan feels that the Nanaimo club right now is as good as it ever will be while "we will improve more than they will over the season."

McMillan plans no line-up changes for tonight but Nanaimo hopes to have fabulous

French Colt Wins England's Derby

Phil Drake Surprises Acropolis Third

EPSOM, England (CP) — Phil Drake, a French-trained colt owned by Mme. Suzi Volterra of France, came with a rush in the stretch to win the 176th running of the Derby today.

Panassipper, from Ireland, was second, and the favored Acropolis, owned by Lady Derby, whose family gave the classic its name, was third in the field of 23 horses in the famed race for three-year-olds.

Phil Drake, whose sire is Admiral Drake and dam is Philippa, went off at 100 to 8 in the betting while Panassipper was 100 to 1 and Acropolis 11 to 4.

Each horse carried 126 pounds in the 1½-mile race, the last six furlongs of which is run uphill.

ROYAL FAMILY WATCHES

The royal family was out in force for the Derby, on which the Irish hospital sweepstakes are based. Queen Elizabeth and the Duke of Edinburgh rode down the course in an open landau before a crowd estimated at 200,000—short of the usual 400,000 to 500,000—then took their places in the royal box along with Queen Mother Elizabeth, Princess Margaret, the Duke and Duchess of Gloucester, the Princess Royal, the Duchess of Kent, Princess Alexandra and Princess Olga of Greece.

Phil Drake finished 1½ lengths in front with three lengths separating Panassipper and Acropolis. Cardington King was fourth.

Two horses, Hugh Lupus and Square Dance, were scratched before the race.

THIRD FEMALE OWNER

Mme. Volterra became the third woman to own a winner in the Derby and her horse earned £18,802 for her. Second money was £2,212 and third £1,106.

The two previous winning women owners were Mrs. G. B. Miller with Midday Sun in 1937 and Mrs. M. Glenister with Nimbus in 1949. The time for the run over the horseshoe-shaped track was 2:39.45.

Pike Rejects Ranger Offer; To Coach 'Peg

WINNIPEG (CP)—All Pike will remain as coach of Winnipeg's new entry in the Western Canada Professional Hockey League.

Jack Perrin, managing-director of the still-unnamed Winnipeg team, said Tuesday he had received a long distance telephone call from Pike confirming that the former eastern junior coach would stick with Winnipeg despite an offer to take over as chief scout for New York Rangers of the National Hockey League.

Perrin had said earlier he would not stand in Pike's way when the offer was made known.

Pike, originally from Winnipeg, played for the Rangers in the 1940s and later coached Guelph, Ont., Junior Biltmores.

NORTH SAANICH TAKES SUBURBAN TRACK TITLE

North Saanich scored heavily in the relay and distance events to win the Saanich High Schools Track and Field Meet over the week-end, at Sidney's Memorial Park.

North Saanich accumulated a total of 134 points in the over-all competition and 15 points in the sectional divisions to finish ahead of runner-up Mt. Newton and third-place Royal Oak.

The winners gained their winning points by sweeping three of the four relay events and Roy Brekke of North Saanich brought further points to his school by winning the mile and half-mile events.

CHRISTENSEN TO THE FORE

Fred Hurls No-Hit Game

Manager Ed Ash of Farmer Construction, his pitching stock depleted by the holiday doubleheader Monday with Bellingham, came up with a fellow by the name of Fred Christensen Tuesday night at Athletic Park.

Christensen, bumped out of his first start of the season, May 14 in the third inning by Duncan, hung around to the end Tuesday against Eagles. The end came after seven innings because of darkness, and when it was all over Christensen had a no-hitter and Farmers had a 10-0 victory.

It was Farmers' third win in a row in the Lower Island Senior Amateur Baseball League, and it put them comfortably ahead of Eagles and Capitals, tied for second with one win and two losses each.

Christensen struck out 11 in his seven-inning stint, and walked but three men. He was only in trouble twice, and only allowed one ball to be hit out of the infield.

In the second inning the smooth lefthander issued two free passes but struck out the last two batters to repair the damage.

A double error by second baseman Martin, Christensen's third walk, and a muffed third strike by catcher Shields in the seventh loaded the bases with one out. Christensen again rose to the occasion in the gathering dusk, striking out pinch-hitter Todd on three pitches, and retiring the final batter of the evening, Hodge, also via the strikeout route.

Farmers greeted Eagles' starting pitcher, Carlson, rudely, blasting in six runs in the first inning and bringing on pitcher Stout to finish the game. Farmers slowed down thereafter but continued to pound the opposition for 13 hits and four more runs.

Ron Martin with three for four and Lowell Hodges, with two for three led the attack from the plate. Christensen, confining his excellence to the mound, was the only Farmer player not to get a safety.

Next league game will see Duncan tangle with Capitals for second spot Thursday night at 6:30 at Athletic Park.

Line score:
Farmers 612 010 0-19 12 3
Eagles 000 000 0-6 0 3

Aces Threaten to Quit Quebec Ice League

QUEBEC (CP)—Quebec Aces, main source of revenue for the city's ultra-modern hockey arena, are threatening to quit operating unless they get a bigger share of their steadily dwindling gate receipts.

Mayor Wilfrid Hamel of Quebec City made the announcement Tuesday at a municipal committee which administers the city-owned Coliseum—home of the Professional Quebec Hockey League Club.

The Coliseum went $240,000 in the hole last year.

The arena's other big source of revenue is Quebec Frontenacs, a Quebec Junior Hockey League entry. In 1951, during an Eastern Canada Memorial meeting in Montreal.

The Aces say unless they can get a better break they'll give up. Directors will give their decision this week-end at a QHL meeting in Montreal.

REPEATED BLOWS KILLED HER

Immigrant's Baby Sadist's Victim

MONTREAL (CP) — Nine-month-old Susie Timm died of a hemorrhage from repeated blows to the liver, a medical expert said Tuesday.

Dr. Rosario Fontaine said after performing an autopsy on the child's body that the liver was ruptured several times and that one blow would have been enough to kill the child.

Daughter of a German immigrant, her body was found Monday in a Park Avenue rooming house. It was covered with bruises and burns.

An inquest is expected to open today. Vladimir Nekrasoff, 33, described by police as a German national of Russian descent, is being held as a material witness. In Quebec no charge is laid until after an inquest.

Nekrasoff and Mrs. Honor Rogers, the woman with whom he had been living, shared a Park Avenue apartment and had been caring for the child three weeks.

Soviet Visit Marks Tito's 63rd Birthday

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia (UP) — President Tito thanked Russia for wishing him a happy 63rd birthday today on the eve of a historic mission from Moscow to forgive him for his seven years' defiance of the Kremlin.

Tito celebrated his birthday on the eve of the visit by a top-level Soviet delegation that will translate into reality the Yugoslav president's prediction when the communist ousted him in 1948.

"One day they will come back to us and admit they were wrong," Tito said then. The Soviets headed by Communist party boss Nikita Khrushchev and Premier Nikolai Bulganin arrived to woo Tito's friendship and end the long economic blockade by the east European bloc.

TORIES REMAIN 'PROGRESSIVE'

Drew Denies Move Afoot To Change Name of Party

OTTAWA (CP)—Hon. George Drew said Tuesday he has seen no tendency toward abbreviating the official name of his national party to "Conservative" from "Progressive Conservative."

But, the national party leader added, most members—including himself—still call it the Conservative party.

Mr. Drew made the statement in an interview while commenting on the decision by the executive of the party's Alberta association to drop the word "Progressive" from the title. Ballots in next month's Alberta election will carry the party affiliation of candidates.

Mr. Drew said there is no move afoot to make an official change in the "Progressive Conservative" title, adopted at the 1942 party convention which chose John Bracken as party leader.

He said, however, that it is general practice to use the one word "Conservative" when referring to the party. The prefix was simply an adjective.

Mr. Drew noted that Conservatives in Britain don't use their party's full title: The Conservative and Unionist Association.

A DOCTOR EXPLAINS

What Your Pains Mean

By DR. WALTER C. ALVAREZ

Emeritus Consultant in Medicine, Mayo Clinic
And Emeritus Professor of Medicine, Mayo Foundation
This is a different sort of medical series in that Dr. Alvarez not only describes the origin and meaning of many of your pains, but he also takes you, the reader, into his office and shows you how the internist's mind works as he tries to make a diagnosis and as he handles difficult patients.

CHAPTER X

SO-CALLED CHRONIC APPENDICITIS AND PSEUDO-ULCER

There are some cases in which, because of pain, distress, aching, soreness, or burning in the right lower quadrant of the abdomen, perhaps with vague indigestion and feelings of fatigue, toxicity, and ill health, the question in the mind of physician and patient will be: Can all this trouble be due to chronic appendicitis, and would it help to operate?

Often in desperation an operation is performed and the suspected organ is removed; but rarely does this work a cure, and often the patient is worse.

It is highly important to find out if the distress is arising in any part of the bowel, and this can usually be determined best by asking a few questions. If it is not related at all to the taking of food, or to the emptying of the bowel with laxatives or enemas, or to the passing of flatus, it probably has nothing to do with the digestive tract. If it is relieved by walking around it is probably arthritic in origin.

Often the distress is constant, every day and every night, and not influenced by anything the patient does. Then I think it originates in the nervous system and probably in the brain. It is like the constant headache for which no cause can be found.

TIRED MUSCLES

Distress that comes particularly when the patient is tired is, of course, likely to be due to tired muscles and nerves. My impression about these persons is that in most of them the distress does not arise in the digestive tract. Only rarely does it arise in the appendix. It certainly is more than a coincidence that the patient is usually a woman and often a rather neurotic or psychopathic one.

If disease of the ovaries were the cause of the pain one should expect it to be worse with each period, and this is rarely the case with so-called chronic appendicitis. In puzzling cases I have the right kidney and tube running from it studied to make sure that they are not diseased.

In some cases, and particularly in those in which the patient was psychopathic to begin with, or in which the abdominal symptoms developed after a psychic shock, or in which no sign of disease was found when the abdomen was explored, I suspect strongly that the disease that caused the discomfort is up in the brain, from whence the distress is projected out to the periphery.

HISTORY IMPORTANT

Evidently then, in most cases the only criterion on which one can safely base the diagnosis of chronic appendicitis is the history of one or more attacks that resembled an attack of acute appendicitis, with pain severe enough to keep the patient awake most of a night. In my series there were many persons who were operated on because of an X-ray diagnosis of appendicitis, and in every one the persistence of the symptoms showed that the diagnosis was wrong! Actually, there is no good or trustworthy X-ray sign of appendicitis, and many good X-ray men never attempt to make the diagnosis.

Russia to Send Observer Corps To Toronto's Trade, Air Show

By VICTOR MACKIE

Times' Ottawa Correspondent
OTTAWA — Russia is planning on sending a large corps of "observers" to visit the International Trade Fair and Air Show scheduled for Toronto from May 30 to June 10.

So far as could be learned here, the Russians do not plan to stage any exhibit at the Trade Fair or to bring along any aircraft to take part in the International Air Show. But they are going to be keen observers.

"They are coming to the fair to look and perhaps to buy," a Russian embassy spokesman explained.

Officials of the department of external affairs disclosed today that the Russian embassy in Ottawa had applied for visas for 13 of their countrymen. Russian Ambassador Dmitri Chuvpinski, the first secretary and the commercial consular, from the Russian embassy, were in Toronto Friday in connection with the fair and air show. It is understood that among the group coming from Russia are a number of aviation experts. Several officials from the Russian embassy staff also plan to attend, including the military and air attaches.

He was appointed official naval historian in 1941, holding the post until 1949. He participated in a number of naval engagements during the Second World War and during the First World War served overseas with the 18th Battalion, Canadian Expeditionary Force.

Apalling Record Faces Safety Group

National Conference Debates Measures To Reduce Mounting Traffic Tragedies

OTTAWA (CP)—A cloud-burst of statistics and recommendations Tuesday showered on the first national highway safety conference here.

One recommendation was that the conference be made a continuing body.

More than 400 delegates representing nearly every group in Canada concerned with traffic safety convened for the three-day meeting. They overflowed the main convention hall. Split into five committees, they overflew the committee rooms.

They faced statistics like these:

There were 241,102 motor vehicle accidents in Canada in 1953, last year for which accurate figures are available, resulting in 2,906 deaths and 56,724 injuries. Car insurance companies paid out $90,190,126 in claims in 1953.

Brooke Claxton, conference chairman, former defence minister and now vice-president of Metropolitan Life Insurance Company, predicted there will be 300,000 highway accidents this year in which about 3,000 persons will be killed and 75,000 injured.

He said there now are 3,500,000 cars in Canada. By 1960, there likely would be more than 5,000,000.

Other figures given the conference show that the highway death rate per 100,000,000 vehicle-miles in the U.S. has dropped from 9.8 in 1946, when the president's first highway safety conference was held, to 6.5 in 1954.

In Canada, the death rate per 100,000,000 miles was 10.8 in 1953, 44 per cent higher than the U.S. rate for the same year.

Recommendations on how to tackle the problem came thick and fast.

Attorney-General Robert Bonner of British Columbia, enforcement committee chairman, said the group might draft model highway legislation which could be shown the provinces as an example of good traffic regulations or "draw up a highway safety code."

Queen's Husband Top-Notch Speaker

Duke of Edinburgh Acclaimed For Lucidity on 'Banquet Circuit'

By ARCH MacKENZIE
Canadian Press Staff Writer
LONDON (CP)—The Duke of Edinburgh has arrived on the British banquet circuit, as familiar these days as the brandy and cigars and every bit as popular. "The best speaker in London," was the accolade bestowed on him recently by a veteran of the white-tie-and-tails crowd.

"Not since the Duke of Windsor was at his zenith as Prince of Wales has the Royal Family had anything like so good a speaker, so forcible or direct," reports the Evening News.

"No matter what his subject, (he) speaks with knowledge, sincerity and wit," agrees The Daily Mail. "His words are not those of some official 'ghost.' They are his own and he means what he says."

Thus the tall, energetic consort is arousing interest—and newspaper play—as much for what he says as the fact that he is the Queen's husband.

It may be off the cuff, delivered in two minutes as a scheduled halt in one of his intensive surveys of industrial or other establishments. It may be based on rough, self-scribed notes.

Or the duke may draw on a carefully prepared text to deliver technical matters.

He talks taxes with chartered accountants, mining—and Robert Service—poetry with metallurgists, palace publicity with the press and fowl feeds with farmers.

"Taxmanship" is described by the duke as "the gentle art of scoring off the inland revenue department without actually cheating."

He supposes that in an accountant's world "half the country would be bankrupt by paying too much tax... and the other half would be in jail for not paying enough."

He urges industry to modernize, and deplores the need to build playing fields—with industry one of his pet interests—15 miles out of London. Let this "be a lesson to the planners."

OFF THE RECORD

At a press gathering he may submit to informal, off-the-record questions, or he confesses to a viking for comic strips before speaking as a man constantly under the glare of publicity.

"The more one is quoted and reported, the less one is inclined to leave to chance both what one says and does in public," he suggests this morning in "very dull" newspaper men and makes us have Royal Family look rather unenterprising.

Of the late newspaper strike, he adds bluntly: "What a relief it was without the usual flood of gossip."

Despite newspaper advice as recently as last December that he should ease up a bit, he has been hitting a pace that makes three speeches, one meeting, a luncheon, one ceremony, for car rides and a helicopter trip an "average" day.

The palace helicopter stands as his biggest contribution to a generally more informal royal pattern in the last three years, a trend helped along by the Queen and Princess Margaret who have been noted shedding protocol and ceremony in every-day actions that bring them into the public circle.

68 DRIVERS CAN TAKE ONE FOR THE ROAD

OTTAWA (BUP)—Sixty-eight people are going to do a little drunk driving during the next few days, while the RCMP look on.

RCMP headquarters announced today that it is starting a series of tests with automobile drivers to find out just how many drinks it takes to make a driver dangerous. A brief announcement from the RCMP headquarters here said 68 volunteers from all walks of life in "a large Canadian metropolitan area" will take part in the tests.

The tests will be conducted under highly controlled conditions which have been rigidly planned so that the critical blood-alcohol level of intoxication can be determined.

Misprinted $1 Bill Sought by Collectors

OTTAWA (CP)—There are 234 new Canadian $1 bills in circulation which may be worth more than one dollar as collectors' items.

The bills have the signatures of Graham F. Towers and J. B. Coyne imprinted over the "Bank of Canada" bar, about a half-inch above where they should be. Mr. Coyne, former deputy governor of the bank has succeeded Mr. Towers as governor.

One of the bills was spotted Tuesday by Rudolph Jetzelberger, Ottawa steamfitter who came to Canada from Germany 18 months ago.

A bank official said that since bills are printed in sheets of 24, the signatures would be misplaced on the other 23 bills as well.

He said the bills are legal tender in spite of the error.

"The bills are undoubtedly worth more than a dollar as collectors' items," he said.

Salk Vaccine Declared Safe by U.S. No Move to Resume Program

IKE AIDES 'BUNGLED' ON SALK SHOTS—TRUMAN

DENVER, Colo., (UP)—Former president Truman said Tuesday night the Eisenhower administration had bungled badly in its handling of the polio inoculation program.

Mr. Truman made the charge at a $25-a-plate dinner to raise funds for his library at Independence, Mo.

He said Basil O'Connor, chairman of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis had planned to attend the dinner but that O'Connor was conferring with federal officials about the inoculation program "because it has been so badly bungled."

750,000 Inoculated —No After-Effects

Canada's Double Safety Check on Salk
Pays Off in Expanding Vaccine Program

By HAROLD MORRISON
Canadian Press Staff Writer

OTTAWA (CP)—Canada has inoculated 750,000 children with Salk polio vaccine so far—without a single report of a child becoming ill from it.

"The double safety check on production is paying off," a federal health department spokesman said. "There has been only one report of a child becoming ill with polio after receiving the vaccine and it was found to have been infected with the virus before getting its first inoculation."

Day by day, the number of Canadian children receiving the protective vaccine is mounting as Canada continues an all-out inoculation program. The one federal regret is that supplies are limited.

The spokesman said so far 750,000 children have received at least one injection, with the required two shots completed in half that number.

By July when the polio season begins climbing towards its peak, Canada hopes to have at least 1,000,000 children protected with two shots. All provinces have agreed to abide by vaccine perfection Dr. Jonas Salk's recommendation to give the third shot seven months later.

With a total population of 15,000,000, Canada's demands for the vaccine have been high and supplies scarce. There have been few reports of parents balking at the inoculation program, though some misgivings resulted from United States reports of polio deaths through faulty production of the vaccine.

In contrast, mothers have camped for hours on the doorsteps of some clinics, demanding protection for their children.

Reason for the scarcity is that supplies—except for 13,000 triple doses imported from a U. S. commercial firm last month—are produced from only one Canadian source: the University of Toronto's Connaught Laboratories.

The University of Montreal's Institute of Microbiology goes into production next fall.

But the federal government still has large supplies of gamma globulin, an effective temporary protective. It is preparing to speed supplies anywhere in the country if a major polio epidemic breaks out during the summer.

Meanwhile, children between five and seven in all provinces except Quebec—which is concentrating on two- and three-year-olds—are getting the vaccine under a cost-free school-inoculation program.

Reconsideration Of Arena Floor Repair Suggested

City council may give further consideration to a $20,000 repair job approved recently for Memorial Arena floor. Ald. Brent Murdoch says he will ask a delay, "because of one or two things that have been brought to my attention. I don't think the commission is entirely sold on this way of doing repairs."

The commission acted on recommendation of the city public works department when it was found the concrete floor had sagged between supporting walls. This opened cracks and water seeped in to corrode the pipes carrying freezing agents. Cost of a new floor has been estimated as high as $125,000. City engineers suggested forcing concrete under the existing floor at a cost of $20,000 as a temporary measure, although it is thought a new floor will be required in a few years.

B.C. Fishermen Turn Down 3% Increase

VANCOUVER (CP)—The offer of a 3 per cent increase across the board in raw salmon prices was turned down Monday by the United Fishermen and Allied Workers' Union Ind.

The rejection of the fisheries association offer came at the third meeting between the union and the association.

The union is negotiating for the Native Brotherhood also.

Homer Stevens, representing the fishermen, said the consumer was not necessarily queen of the situation and felt that higher salmon prices could be charged.

Victoria Daily Times 17
WEDNESDAY, MAY 25, 1955

WASHINGTON (AP)—Surgeon General Leonard Scheele announced Tuesday that the government has confirmed the safety of all Salk polio vaccine produced by drug companies except two lots made by Cutter Laboratories, Berkeley, Calif.

There was no immediate indication, however, of when the stalled immunization program would be resumed. There were signs meanwhile of strained relations between Dr. Scheele and some other anti-polio leaders on the one hand and Dr. Jonas Salk and Basil O'Connor on the other. O'Connor, president of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, had been pressing for more public information on the polio campaign, including a report on the Cutter vaccine.

Scheele, in a statement at the close of a meeting of government and other polio experts Tuesday, said that there is "strong presumptive evidence that there was a cause and effect relationship" between certain cases of paralytic polio "and the use of two lots of Cutter vaccine out of nine released."

He did not say that such a relationship has been proven to exist. The Cutter vaccine was withdrawn from use April 27. The United States public health service, in its latest report, said 60 persons who received the Cutter vaccine had subsequently developed polio.

About 6,000,000 school children have received shots so far in the program.

O'Connor charged Monday night that politics has become mixed up in the polio program since the government stepped into it last month. He complained that the foundation, which underwrote a good deal of the development of the vaccine, has not been kept informed of the progress of the immunization campaign.

Politics Charged In Vaccine Hold-Up

WASHINGTON (AP)—Dr. Jonas Salk and Basil O'Connor today joined private discussions of government scientists and advisers on the future of the U.S. polio vaccine program.

Salk is the developer of the vaccine, and O'Connor is president of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis.

O'Connor asserted Monday in a speech in New York that "politics" had become involved in the vaccine program.

DEFENCE SECRETARY SAYS:

U.S. Still Enjoys Superiority in Air

WASHINGTON (Reuters)—Defense Secretary Charles E. Wilson said Tuesday the United States has air superiority over the Soviet Union and intends to maintain it. But he added in a prepared statement to a press conference that it would be "foolhardy to deny that the Soviets are likewise improving in technology and production because they are."

Wilson's statement was the latest high-level comment in the controversy over whether the United States had lost its air superiority to the Soviet Union.

The controversy had been sparked by a statement attributed to Gen. Woodbury Burgess, intelligence chief of the continental air defence command, that the Soviet Air Force was "at least as good as ours, possibly better." The general later told a congressional committee he had been misquoted.

TV Tube Blows Up In Dark of Night

By PHIL LEE
(Times Television Editor)

"What are the chances of your television picture tube 'blowing up'?"

According to data gleaned from city television circles this morning, one in 500,000.

The question was raised by the "collapse" of a set placed in the home of Mrs. Nellie Ingalls, 1218 McKenzie, Tuesday, on a trial basis. During the night the picture tube "exploded" (the trade prefers the more accurate description of "collapse") in a shower of broken glass.

This has happened before in other Victoria homes; but very rarely.

At no time—in Victoria at any rate—has anyone been injured.

A television trade spokesman explained the matter in this way:

A TV picture tube is a "hard" or perfect vacuum. Reckoning on a basis of an atmospheric pressure of 14 pounds exerted on a square inch, a 21-inch picture tube would be supporting a pressure of from anywhere up to seven tons.

Although well-tested at the factory, sometimes the glass in the picture tube becomes "fatigued" or crystallized. This condition is further aggravated by handling in transit. Finally, the faulty tube "collapses" under the atmospheric pressure.

As for the figure of one "collapse" in every 500,000 picture tubes the spokesman stressed that this data was not "guesstimate" (the trade prefers the more accurate description of "collapse") in a shower of broken glass.

Furthermore, he pointed out, even should your tube "collapse," the danger to you and to your family is minimized by the safety glass fronting your set.

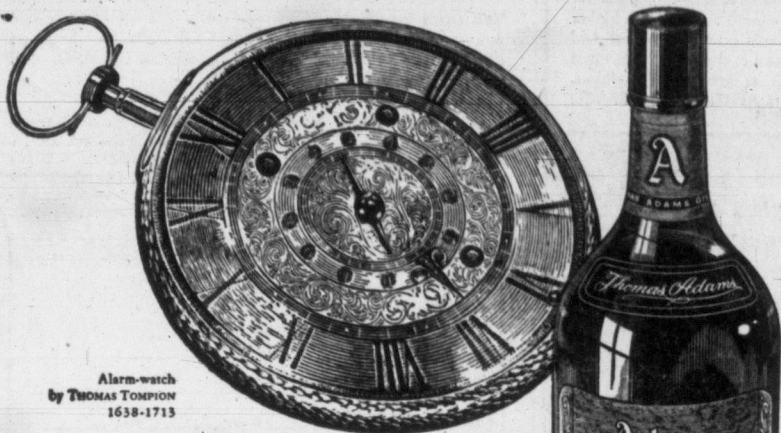

In conclusion: A peculiarity of these rare "collapses" is that they usually happen when the set is not in use.

25 BEAT TRAFFIC RAPS

Shimmying Speed-Trap Wire Catches But Can't Convict

WHITBY, Ont. (BUP)—Police planned fresh tests on a new speed trap at nearby Ajax today after 25 motorists successfully fought charges laid on its first day of operation.

Magistrate M. Langdon dismissed speeding charges against 25 of the 100 drivers who were caught, and said he was not satisfied the trap was working properly.

One motorist, Henry Ralph Stratford, claimed he saw the wires move as he crossed them, and estimated that "a six-inch shimmy" could mean an error of 2.6 miles per hour in recording his speed.

G. W. Clay said it was the first speeding ticket he had received in 25 years of driving. He said civic officials in Ajax were trying "not so much to stop speeding as to make a few dollars."

The Royal Bank of Canada can help you

Build a Home

of your own

Naturally you need some money of your own to get started. But it is surprising, as the example shows, what a large part of the cost can be spread over the years. And the monthly cost of paying off the mortgage is often less—perhaps substantially less—than you are now paying in rent.

Of course your house may be more or less costly than the example. Maximum loan on a single dwelling is $12,800. NHA loans may also be obtained from the Royal Bank to build semi-detached, duplex and other types of dwellings.

To the amount of monthly mortgage payments you must add a monthly amount to cover local taxes. If these combined monthly payments are no greater than 23% of your gross monthly income, then it will pay you to see your local Royal Bank manager. He has all particulars and an informative booklet telling you exactly how to work out your financing and then what further steps to take.

Interest rate now 5%

All mortgage loans arranged at branches of The Royal Bank of Canada under N.H.A. will be made at the new low interest rate of 5%. This applies to all new mortgages arranged through this bank for the construction of new housing under the Act.

THE ROYAL BANK OF CANADA

of how a loan under the National Housing Act enables you to handle home-building costs:

Lending value of new home.....	$10,000
Maximum mortgage permitted.....	$8,600*
Mortgage insurance fee (2%).....	172
Total amount of Royal Bank Loan.....	$8,772
You need in cash, at least.....	$1,400
Monthly payments, at $5.82 per $1,000., on 25-year mortgage.....	$51.02 plus local taxes

*The amount you may borrow depends largely on the "lending value" of house and lot, which is set by Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation. This valuation may be higher, equal to or lower than the actual cost of your lot plus the price your contractor quotes for your house. For a single house you may borrow up to 90% of the first $8,000 of the lending value, and up to 70% of the balance.

Saanich Berry Crops Retarded By Coolness of Spring Weather

Cool, spring weather is expected to delay the Saanich berry crop by two weeks, according to officials of the Dominion Experimental Farm. The strawberry crop is now in full bloom but the berries are not expected to be ready for picking until mid-June. Cane fruits, such as loganberries, are also expected to be later than usual.

Agricultural officials said the March and April frosts seemed to have had little effect on the island's berry crops. Frosts harmed some loganberry canes, they said, but the damage was not above normal.

With regard to orchard trees, they said, it is too early to determine if the frost and cool weather will have an effect on this year's crop. There were indications the crop from cherry trees will be about the same as last year.

Elsewhere in British Columbia, the same conditions prevail. In the Fraser valley, field rhubarb and asparagus are slow. Strawberries, black currants and blueberries are just starting to bloom.

Raspberries suffered some severe winter injuries in some parts of the province. But strawberries on the whole came through without damage.

Two youths charged in connection with May 4 strong-arming of a city motorist, each were sentenced to two months in jail today in city police court.

A third youth, George Ludlow, 1142 Caledonia, was remanded to Thursday for sentence on charges of theft of a watch over $50 from Anderson and with assault.

Sentence Thursday On Driving Charge

Raymond Joseph McInnis, HMCS Naden, was remanded to Thursday morning for sentence when he pleaded guilty in city police court today to two charges.

He was charged with taking an auto without consent of the owner, and with criminally negligent driving, Tuesday.

A juvenile will also appear in juvenile court this afternoon in connection with the case.

Insurance Men Open Three-day Meeting Here.

Top Underwriters Attending Parley

Mushroom growth of the insurance business since the end of the last war should not be regarded as phenomenal, D. E. Kilgour, general manager of the Great West Life Assurance Co., Winnipeg, told 285 of the company's top underwriters meeting at the Empress Hotel today.

All indications point to even bigger business ahead, he said. He spoke at the opening of the first business session of a three-day convention for leading company agents from western Canada and the western United States.

The convention opened Tuesday with various social events. Also addressing this morning's session was H. W. Manning, vice-president and managing director, who stressed that North Americans had developed a "security consciousness" and were therefore more receptive to saving and insurance buying.

A talk on sales technique was presented by Les Corfield of the company's Nanaimo office.

The selling of hot dogs, pop and ice cream by the PTA assisted in covering of expenses. Tea was served parents and friends. One of the largest crowds in the history of the school turned out to see the events, directed by the principal, Miss E. Ruth King, and the teaching staff.

Former Lake Ship On Strait Trials

Ss. Duluth, 50-year-old ex-Great Lakes grain ship, was on trials in Juan de Fuca Strait this morning, prior to leaving for Japan on her last voyage.

She is in the hands of VMD for fitting out, after being in "dead storage" at Lake Union, Washington. When she arrives in Japan, she will be broken up for scrap.

Also in to VMD is Ss. Vaasa, Finnish lumber carrier which developed rudder trouble after clearing for sea from Ogden Point. It was hoped repairs could be effected while the ship was in the water, but it became necessary to drydock her, and she entered Government Graving Dock, Esquimalt, Tuesday.

Fine of $250 or 15 days in jail was imposed on Ray Paul, Songhees reservation, when he appeared in Esquimalt police court Monday charged with driving while his ability was impaired by alcohol.

Mayor Proposes Plan For BCE Park Revival

Joint Committee Also Talks About Race Track Proposals

A development plan that might see the old B.C. Electric park on the Gorge resume its former place of importance in the recreation life of the city was suggested today by Mayor Claude Harrison.

Chief obstacle to previous development plans has been the fact that Esquimalt municipality, in which the park is located, has always objected to any scheme that would deprive it of the tax income it now enjoys from the land.

Speaking while on the annual tour of the Victoria-Saanich beaches and parks committee, the mayor suggested that instead of the committee taking over the property, the B.C. Electric retain title to the 30 to 40 acres involved, pay the municipal taxes, and permit the committee to develop the site. The company would derive benefits from the park in goodwill as well as bus revenue.

Plans for the improvement of the area, once popular as the site of Japanese tea garden and an excellent swimming spot, are in line with other projects such as the proposed Gorge canal.

Also contributing toward making the Gorge a beauty spot once again is the Saanich sewer system will discharge sewage into the sea instead of letting it drain into the Gorge.

The committee was scheduled to meet for a business session this afternoon to discuss the morning tour.

It is expected construction of a new promenade at the narrows under Gorge Bridge will be high on the agenda of the meeting.

The present wooden structure on the north side of the channel would be replaced by a concrete installation 290 feet long, according to opinions expressed today.

Estimated cost of $10,000 could be met by the city grant to the committee of $6,000; Saanich grant of $3,000, and additional income of $800 from a pole line right-of-way at Mount Douglas Park.

Mayor Harrison suggested sand for beaches on the Gorge could be taken from Goldstream Park at the foot of the Malahat.

The controversial Beaver-Elk Lake track issue was slated for airing also. The issue was referred to the committee for study about two weeks ago.

Before the meeting Reeve Joseph Casey of Saanich said he felt his council is still opposed to any race track in the area.

Tories to Decide New Strategy In Row With Drew

A special meeting of the B.C. Conservative Association executive next week will decide the next move in the provincial-federal Tory battle.

Deane Finlayson, leader of the provincial organization, announced Tuesday he expects to meet with his executive "within the next week."

He said the executive will "set the pattern."

It is expected officers of the B.C. association will call a special general meeting.

Mr. Finlayson was expelled from the national association meeting in Ottawa earlier this month, because of his opposition to national leader George Drew.

A Work Point soldier was fined $50 or 15 days in jail when he appeared in city police court today on an assault charge.

Stanley Leslie Kincaide, 21, was charged with assault occasioning actual bodily harm to Frances Isabelle McEwen, May 16.

ASK The TIMES

Q.—How did the donkey come to be recognized as the symbol of the Democratic party in the U.S.—A.C.

A.—It was a creation of Thomas Nast, widely known political cartoonist, and dates from 1874. His best known work was his series attacking the Tweed Ring at New York. The Republican elephant also first appeared in Nast cartoons, as did the Tammany tiger. Nast was born at Landau, Bavaria, Germany, Sept. 27, 1840. Appointed U.S. consul at Guayaquil, Ecuador, in 1902, he died there soon after taking up the post.

Anyone wishing a question answered is invited to send the question along to The Times, addressed to "Ask The Times" Editor. Questions and answers will be published daily. All questions should deal with matters of fact and be of general interest. The Editors do not undertake to solve conundrums.

WOODEN PROMENADE under Tillicum Bridge, overlooking reversing falls at narrows in Gorge, would be replaced by $10,000 concrete structure if hopes of Victoria-Saanich beaches and parks committee come true. Required walkway would be 290 feet long. (Strickland photo.)

BETWEEN TIMES

By MONTE ROBERTS

Ah, well, that's ONE less ferry for the Strait swimmers to dodge.

There is a great deal of weeping, wailing, gnashing of teeth and wishing-we-owned-property-in-Nanaimo going around these days.

Some of the good citizens of Victoria are perturbed because we no longer have year-round steamship connection with Port Angeles. And many of said citizens feel Victoria is being by-passed in favor of the bustling up-Island centre.

To put in my two-bits worth, I wish to say, this is nothing but progress. Progress with a capital "S"—and the "S" stands for speed.

Black-Ball Lines' decision to use not one, but two ships on the Nanaimo-Mainland run is symptomatic of the current urge to get from here to there as quickly as possible, if not more so, preferably taking automotive transportation along.

Nanaimo fits into this urge; Victoria doesn't. The fact that you or I, personally, much prefer to travel to Vancouver via either the midnight steamer, sleeping peacefully on the way; or the day boat, relaxing and enjoying life, has nothing to do with the matter.

Many thousands of people each year don't. When progress is inevitable, let us relax and enjoy it. (The above is from our Psychic Centre Correspondent, Philosophical Q. Roberts.)

We will now all join in a rousing "Hubba, hubba, hubba," for the Hub City—the winnah and new champion.

Speaking of speed, you no doubt read about the jet plane pilot who had breakfast in Los Angeles, lunch in New York, and dinner back in Los Angeles.

He is now having indigestion at leisure.

The fact of the matter is, he was just proving the truth of the saying "New York is a great place to visit, but I wouldn't live there on a bet."

Give Your Feet a Treat With New Barefoot Sandals

By PENNY SAVER

Now that the sun is being more generous with its warmth, all thoughts are turning to lighter clothing. But how many times do we forget that our feet need a new summer wardrobe too! Of course, the ideal situation, as far as I am concerned, would be to go barefoot. Yes, I know it's unconventional. The next best thing, though, is to wear a pair of the wonderfully cool and comfortable barefoot sandals. With summer skirts and pedal pushers or shorts, the very sight of these airy, next-to-nothing shoes make you feel refreshed and cool. If you haven't been able to find just the right kind that you'd like, I know a store where they'll make them to order for you, either from your own ideas, or pictures, or

You want them to match a special summer tinted dress? Well, that is certainly no problem, 'cause they have all colors of leather to shape and stitch to fashion a personalized shoe... just for you. There are those with just a few thin straps, that extend to tie around the ankle. Or you may order the regular sandal type, with criss-cross straps across the foot, and a small strap at the front of the foot. The "toe shoes" are very popular, too. They have a leather thong that goes down the front of the foot and the one thong attaches to the sole of the shoe right next to your big toe. That's nearly all there is to the shoe. It's the next best thing to going barefoot, and if you have nicely shaped feet, here's a chance to show them off.

These summer-time wonders cost $6.50 a pair, in any color, style and leather you prefer. As for the size, you just give the man an outline of your foot, and he works from there. To complete a summer ensemble, add a matching belt to your outfit. Made of the same leathers as the shoes, either in solid color or with mixed colors, they range in price from $1.75 to $6.95.

Let's rejuvenate the summer dishes in the house this week.

AS WE LIVE

Spouse Keeps Falling For Teenage Girls

By ELIZABETH B. HURLOCK, PhD

Men are sometimes infatuated with teenage girls almost young enough to be their daughters.

(Q)—"I am in my late twenties and my husband is in his early thirties. We have been married for six years and have two children. My problem is that my husband is often infatuated by teenage girls and goes through a lovesick period when he hardly eats and is gloomy and sullen at home. Now he is in love, or thinks he is, with an 18-year-old girl who works where he does. He tells me that he doesn't want to marry her and that he could get over it if he did not see her every day at work. He has suggested that he leave his job. Do you think this is a good solution to the problem?"

(A)—It would be only a temporary solution, so I would not call it a good one. There is no guarantee that there will not be another girl where he works next.

Furthermore, as the father of two children, he cannot afford to pull up stakes and move to another job every time he falls in love with an adolescent girl. If he is lucky, he may step into another job right away that pays as well as the one he just left. But he cannot count on luck all the time, and when his luck turns against him you and the children will pay a heavy price.

The only real solution to his problem lies within himself. He must realize that he married you and has two children. His first obligation is to you three. Being lovesick and leaving jobs is certainly not the way to meet his responsibilities.

You cannot control his thoughts. He must do that. But you can make the home such an attractive place that you can compete with any girl he falls in love with and come out the victor in the end.

Nuptial Mass For Ganges Couple

Carrying white lilies and gown in bouffant white organdy, petite Olivia Mary Ryan became the bride Saturday morning of John Stepaniuk in a nuptial mass performed in Our Lady of Grace Church, Ganges. Father M. Lariviere performed the quiet ceremony.

Tiny folds of material formed the sleeveless bodice of the bride's gown and the full waltz-length skirt featured a large bow at the back. A short bolero and a wreath of white velvet leaves holding her embroidered chapel veil, completed the bride's ensemble.

Bridesmaid was Miss Joan MacDonald, who chose a gown of pale green organdy with a wide band of dark green velvet at the waist. She wore a ruffle of the organdy in her hair and carried purple lilies and narcissi. Little Jane French was the flower girl in pale yellow organdy and Andrew John Renwick was the page boy. The groom was attended by Patrick Krebs.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Wm. Renwick of Beddis Road, Ganges, and the groom is the son of K. Stepaniuk, Ganges.

Before leaving for a honeymoon on Vancouver Island, the bride changed to beige dressmaker suit with white and tan accessories. Mr. and Mrs. Stepaniuk will make their home in Ganges.

First Yukon Delegate to IODE Hit Beauty Trail 20 Years Ago

By PAULINE KENNEDY
Canadian Press Staff Writer

WINNIPEG (CP)—Most people went to the Yukon for gold, but when Mrs. Richard White went there 20 years ago she went for beauty.

She was a trim blonde hairdresser in Vancouver, just turned 21, when she decided to open a beauty shop at Whitehorse.

"My husband and I had the beauty market in Whitehorse cornered for years," she said in an interview Tuesday. "He ran a barber shop—I ran a beauty salon, side by side on the main street."

Mrs. White flew 1,700 miles this week to attend the Imperial Order Daughters of the Empire national convention, the first Yukon delegate to do so. As regent of her local chapter in Whitehorse she will report convention activities to the two other Yukon chapters in Dawson City and Mayo.

Mrs. White first struck out to the Yukon alone. "But my fiancé followed me north and we were married in 1934," she said. "He stayed on to work in the gold mining industry."

LURED BACK

She and her husband tried several times to break away from the North—but the lure was too strong. They came out to Vancouver for a year in 1938. Mr. White promptly took a course in barbering and returned the next year to open up his shop.

"We were really in on the pioneer period before the Alaska highway came through," she said. "Whitehorse had little more than 300 residents in the winter and rose to a grand total of 500 in the summer."

Whitehorse now supports 6,000 people, mostly army and air force personnel. The pioneer feeling is disappearing, she said sadly. "We even have such solid structures as a federal building and a medical centre growing up."

The Whites now run a 30-room hotel in Whitehorse, the hub for mining men and tourists.

The couple tried to break their northern bonds a second time at the end of the Second World War. They settled in Vancouver for six years and bought an apartment block.

"But life was too tame," Mrs. White said, "so we went back to Whitehorse and converted our two shops into a hotel."

Mrs. White said there is no feeling of isolation in the North these days. Air travel has changed all that.

SHOULD PIONEER

Order's Interest in Education Vital Service Says Speaker

By PAULINE KENNEDY
Canadian Press Staff Writer

WINNIPEG (CP)—In a speech to the Imperial Order Daughters of the Empire Tuesday night, Provincial Treasurer R. D. Turner of Manitoba said the order should pioneer in the field of human relations just as settlers' wives pioneered in the west of the past.

"We are making excellent progress in the material sense in Canada," he said during a government dinner for delegates, "but can we do as well in the realm of human relations?"

"I can think of no more valuable service than the IODE's interest in education," he said, "because the country's future lies in youth's perpetuation of the qualities of self-reliance, industry and initiative shown by our forefathers."

MUST KEEP STANDARDS

Mr. Turner spoke of the women who helped settle Manitoba.

"We are indebted to them for breaking the trail," he said, "and we face a stern challenge to measure up to their standards of morality, thrift and industry."

Carol Ann Fricker Wed; Double Ring Ceremony

Baskets of stocks and tulips formed the floral background for a recent wedding in Belmont United Church, when Miss Carol Ann Fricker became the bride of David Stanley Street at a double-ring ceremony performed by Rev. Melvin Dobson.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Booth, 359 Ker Avenue, and the groom, the son of Mr. and Mrs. S. J. Street, 1612 Hawthorne Street.

Given in marriage by R. J. Comeau, a family friend, the charming bride chose a waltz-length gown of nylon tulle and lace. Lace formed a diagonal panel from the tulle pleated neckline, and the skirt was of cascading shirred tulle. A matching lace bolero topping her gown featured long lily-point sleeves.

Her fingertip-length veil was caught to a pearl studded halo. A sheaf of American Beauty roses with a streaming white satin bow formed her bridal bouquet. Her only jewelry was a double strand of pearls, a gift of the groom.

Maid of honor, Miss Barbara Fricker, sister of the bride, and bridesmaid, Miss Muriel Street, sister of the groom, were similarly gowned in nylon lace and net in turquoise and primrose respectively. They wore matching coronet headresses and carried velvet colonial bouquets.

Vern Gordon was best man, and Kenneth Perry and Jim Webb ushered guests to pews marked with nosegays of pansies.

A three-tier wedding cake topped with a dove and double wedding rings was flanked by candles in crystal candelabra on the bride's table at the reception.

More Than 3,000 Delegates Hear Victoria Head of PTA

Any regimen which is a strain on the parent is hard on the child, said Mrs. Ernest Evans of Victoria, B.C., in addressing the 3,500 delegates to the 59th annual convention of the National Congress of Parents and Teachers in Chicago, Tuesday.

Mrs. Evans, president of the Canadian Home and School and Parent Teacher Federation, said that, notwithstanding the vast quantity of books, pamphlets and articles on the care of bringing up of children and the great emphasis placed on child psychology in recent years, the secret of successful parenthood was to be oneself.

The right way to raise a child is instinctive, she said, and it is when parents use methods at variance with what is natural to them in their way of life that they run into difficulties. This applies, Mrs. Evans stated, to both cuddling and correction.

Earlier in the program Mrs. Evans brought greetings from and outlined the activities of the 400,000 PTA members across Canada, emphasizing the work being done in connection with the universal teacher shortage.

WHY GROW OLD?

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Thin Girls Need Diet, Too— In Order to Gain Weight

To aid in gaining weight, get plenty of sleep—take short rest periods during the day.

This week I am giving you a few interesting glimpses into my mail bag. A note says, "Why are you always harping on reducing women? Why not give the girls a diet to gain weight? Give this a thought! A disgusted reader."

Well, as those of you who read "Why Grow Old?" regularly know, I do write for the thin girls quite often, though not nearly so frequently as for their overweight sisters.

There are several reasons for this. In the first place the average woman past early youth is overweight. Also, the overweights are more uncomfortable than the underweights, although pipstems legs and a minus bust can be just as frustrating as rolls over the girdle.

So, here again I repeat some of the rules for gaining those coveted pounds.

1. Have a physical checkup. Sometimes health factors enter into underweight. If you find that you have any difficulty of this sort follow your doctor's orders as to treatment and medication.

2. The chances are that you are a high strung, nervous type if you are underweight. You may be a worrier. Try to remedy this by replacing a happy thought in the place of an unhappy one when the latter occurs. I know that this is not easy to do, but try.

Make it a habit of life to hurry as little as possible. This tenses you up even more. It also causes you to be tired. Even though you lead a busy life you can improve in this way. Part of the hectic rush you live in is habit. Not all of it is necessary.

Many times during the day "let go." Deliberately feel limp all over. You can do this while sitting in a taxi, on a subway or bus or in a car. These are arts which can be learned.

3. Be sure that you eat a well-balanced diet. Vitamin deficiency is one of the main causes of underweight.

4. Do not try to stuff yourself with three large meals of rich food. Eat five meals a day rather than three. Two of these can be of the snack variety, cheese, milk, fruit, graham crackers, soup, etc.

5. Get plenty of sleep. Take short rest periods during the day if possible, and especially before your largest meal.

6. Mild exercise is most helpful. Swimming is one of the very best for you slim girls. Take advantage of the summer for that.

If you would like to have my nine-day gaining diet send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for leaflet No. 41 to Josephine Lowman in care of this newspaper.

VON Nurses Have Increased Number of Calls To Old Age Pensioner Patients This Year

A total of 2,280 visits have been made so far this year to old age pensioners, Miss Marjorie Baird, VON supervisor, told a VON board meeting held at Spencerhouse recently. This represents approximately half of all visits made by the nursing group, and exceeds the services to this category of patient for the same period last year.

Miss Betty Short, who recently attended the annual meeting of the VON for Canada held in Ottawa, gave a resume of the sessions. She touched on the recommendations that were made on the subjects of VON incorporation, fees in relation to cost, nurses' uniform allowance, accumulative sick time, publicity and the payment for services to government wards. While in Ottawa Miss Short was elected to the newly formed VON Nurses' Council.

Mrs. N. E. Impett, publicity chairman, reported that the VON Quarterly magazines had been distributed to the doctors' offices. Mr. W. Maude-Moore announced that the View Royal committee had donated $150 to the VON.

Capt. John Grant was elected to fill the vacancy on the finance committee left by Mr. George Whitaker who is leaving Victoria shortly.

It was announced that Mrs. Dudley Markham, delegate to the provincial branch, will attend the provincial annual meeting in Vancouver on June 2.

Mrs. K. S. Sedgman, president of the Junior VON, gave a cheque to Miss Short to help defray travelling expenses to Ottawa. She also reported a net profit of $24 from the recent home cooking stall in the Public Market and $217 from the Junior VON booth at the Vancouver Island Industrial and Agricultural Exhibition. She stated that the Junior VON will again be holding their Children's Fair at Carnarvon Park on June 4.

Mr. Harold Webster presided at the meeting and other reports were read by Mrs. L. G. D'Easum, Mr. J. B. Barnum, Mr. A. H. Wyllie and Mr. L. de S. Duke.

U.S. Will Fight 'Neutralization'

WASHINGTON (AP)—State Secretary Dulles Tuesday rejected any Soviet move to turn Germany into a neutral in the East-West struggle.

He said no one believes 70,000,000 Germans with their great tradition could play such a neutral role.

Dulles thus stressed this government's insistence that West Germany should remain in alliance with the West. The West Germans have just entered the North Atlantic treaty alliance, defence setup of non-Communist powers.

Dulles spoke out at a press conference in an effort to ease some alarm in West Germany over President Eisenhower's comments on neutrality last week.

The president had told reporters: "There seems to be developing the thought that there might be built up a series of neutralized states from north to south through Europe."

These remarks aroused speculation that the United States was switching its long-standing policy to favor including Germany as part of this neutral belt of states.

But Dulles said he has been authorized by Eisenhower to say that no such interpretation should be placed on the president's remarks.

Queen Hears Graham

'Command' Sermon Precedes Lunch

WINDSOR, England (BUP)—

American Evangelist Billy Graham preached a command sermon Sunday to a "deeply impressed" Queen Elizabeth in the private chapel of Windsor royal lodge.

Queen Mother Elizabeth, Princess Margaret and the Duke of Edinburgh also attended the private service.

A member of the royal household said the Queen listened to Graham "with rapt attention and seemed deeply impressed."

Graham and his wife, Ruth, dined with the Queen at Windsor Castle following the 25-minute sermon, for which the evangelist chose the simple theme, "I believe."

It was the biggest day in Graham's extraordinary career since he preached for President Eisenhower in Washington, on March 6.

Graham had wound up his second London "crusade" Saturday night before 70,000 persons at Wembley Stadium and the royal command sermon stamped his controversial crusading with open and unparalleled acceptance by the British Crown.

Doctors Often Intoxicated Says Hangman

Tells Committee He Executed Man Who Was Already Dead

OTTAWA (CP)—One of Canada's two official executioners says some doctors and coroners officiating at hangings often are so drunk they cannot properly perform their duties.

He also told the Commons-Senate committee on capital and corporal punishment and lotteries that he once hanged a man already dead from a heart attack.

The Quebec hangman made the statements to the committee at a secret meeting May 11 in the RCMP barracks on the outskirts

Hanging Quickest, Surest

The five-foot, 300-pound executioner told the committee that hanging is the quickest way to execute a person provided the operation is properly performed. The condemned person lost consciousness immediately after the trap was sprung, whether the neck was broken or the individual strangled.

Officials at executions, he testified in French, should refrain from using intoxicating liquor. It had happened that "the attending physician or coroner could hardly apply his stethoscope to the body of the condemned, and the body was left balancing on the rope much longer than was necessary, and such mistake was imputed to the executioner."

Ross Thatcher (Ind.—Moose Jaw-Lake Centre) asked the hangman to enlarge on his statement that officials often are intoxicated. "It has occurred often," the hangman said. "It happens from time to time, especially with the doctor and the coroner. When they have too much to drink they don't know whether the heart is beating or not."

Asked whether death is caused by any other way than by the neck breaking or strangulation, he said: "I did hang one who was already dead... the doctor did not know it. Only myself... he was on the trap. I had to raise his head three times and the guards had to come and hold him and I knew he was dead."

fold, attachment of the rope or the length of drop required. He urged that all hangings be conducted at a central place in each province. He was opposed to hangings being conducted in small centres, especially if the scaffold had to be built in a prison yard where it could attract attention.

Best arrangement was to locate the gallows next to the condemned person's cell. The worst arrangement was in Ontario and New Brunswick where the scaffold had to be built in the district in which the trial took place. In small centres the prisoner often had to climb steps to the gallows.

The executioner described the various stages of an execution. However, he declined to give the committee any information dealing with the mechanism of the scaffold.

New Test Reveals 90% Of Lung Cancers in Men

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—A comparatively inexpensive test for lung cancer now can be included in regular physical examinations and should be used routinely in semi-annual check-ups on men more than 45, two researchers reported today.

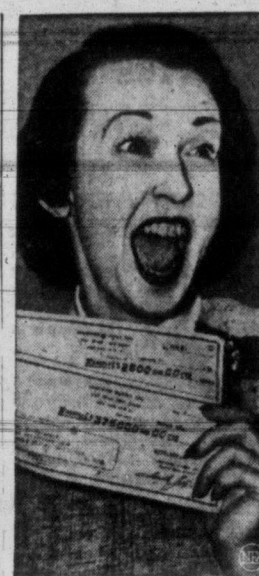

The procedure consists of expert microscopic examination of sputum. In the hands of properly trained examiners it detected more than 90 per cent of the malignancies in 1,000 lung cancer patients said these investigators.

Among cancer tests a 90 per cent accuracy record is high, and lung cancer is one of the Student Teachers Back After Practical Work

By LILLIAN MACKAY Times Normal School Correspondent

The teachers-in-training returned to Normal School last week. They came back from Terrace, from Fort St. John, from Creston, from all the many areas of British Columbia in which they had been teaching during the month following the Easter recess.

There is an almost tangible difference in these people. Each has grown in stature by virtue of having assumed real responsibility for the growth and welfare of others. Each will continue to grow as he recognizes the right of youth to the finest kind of leadership.

During these final weeks at Normal School the student-teacher's continuous work of building background goes on. He attends lectures on health services, school law, tests and measurements and other required subjects.

Again he will have a personal interview with his faculty adviser to discuss the work done in his third round of practice-teaching. This objective evaluation is of great assistance to him in planning further courses of study.

Although he will be teaching, indeed because he will be teaching, he will continue always to study. He has already enrolled at the Summer School of Education at Victoria to be held from July 6 to August 9.

Bringing Up Baby

Hints Collected by The Sun, Barker (Mother of 5)

With longer days showing stronger sun rays, it's by no means too early to consider tanning sessions (which help the skin to manufacture valuable vitamin D) for your tyke. Matter of fact, it's a good idea to start sun-bathing as early in the season as warmth allows—before the sun is really a-blast.

More on the sunny side. Let the word "gradual" be your guide when sunning baby. Start with 2 minutes a day, dividing time fore and aft. Increase time gradually. Never expose baby to more than 30 minutes. And happy basking to both of you.

Summer time or any time here's a treat to tickle your sweet. Gerber Strained Fruit Dessert, a wonderful combination of three favorite fruits of the patty-cake set: orange, pineapple and apricot—teamed up with a touch of tapioca for a texture to delight a delicate tongue.

2 short-shorts. (1) When baby's overalls get worn at the knees or too short in the legs, snip 'em off for sun-suits. (2) Soakers double-duty nicely as trunks for your sun-bathing beauty.

Golden treasure in more ways than one. Gerber Strained Egg Yolks have a creamy, custard-like texture, a delicate fresh-egg flavor that little ones really relish. They're rich in blood-building iron, vitamin A and a good supplementary source of complete proteins. Last but not least—they're so versatile! Serve "as is"—mix with foods—or, for toddlers, try a recipe like this:

FRUIT NOG
2 tablespoons Gerber Strained Egg Yolks
1 can Gerber Strained Orange Juice
1 cup milk
2 tsp. sugar
Blend thoroughly with rotary beater. Serve to the tune of blissful sighs. Gerber-Ogilvie Baby Foods Limited, Niagara Falls, Canada.

National Ballet Signed for U.S. Appearance; Still Needs Money

TORONTO (BUP) — The National Ballet Company has weathered the shoals of artistic insecurity, its members said today, but rough sailing still lies ahead on the financial side.

The troupe, all young, all eager and all Canadian, added a note of caution to their celebrations after winning one of the most important contracts ever offered a Canadian theatrical company.

They have accepted a 10-day engagement at Washington, June 9-18. And they're confident it will match their March 25 performance in New York, which the New York Journal-American called "something fresh and youthful."

Their Washington trip is more encouraging than the last one. For one thing, they know definitely they are going to the capital. In the New York case, they were afraid they would have to turn the offer down because they didn't have the necessary $10,000 traveling expenses.

A Canadian industrialist contributed $5,000 at the 11th hour and the balance was raised by private subscriptions across Canada, with the Canadian Dancing Teachers Association and the Montreal branch of the National Ballet Guild contributing heavily.

Their next trip will cost about the same, but the money has already been raised by the National Ballet Guild of Canada, whose board members are public-spirited and generally wealthy.

The troupe expect to have something in the kitty when they finish in Washington. If the 4,000 seats of the Carter Barron amphitheatre are sold False Teeth Often Have a Certain Odor!

Soak your plates in Polident daily to avoid "Denture Breath"

Polident is the specially designed cleanser that keeps false teeth—and breath—clean and fresh always. Follow these simple rules:

1. Never use a brush on them! Your dental plates are much softer than natural teeth. Brushing wears down fitting ridges so they get loose.
2. Never use soap or toothpaste! They can leave film which collects bacteria and food particles, a major cause of offensive "Denture Breath."
3. Use a soaking-type cleanser made for false teeth only... Polident! Polident is the denture cleanser recommended by more dentists than any other. No brushing, no handling of soapy plates that can slip and break. Polident gets where a brush can't reach. Best of all, Polident always leaves false teeth odor-free. TORONTO POLICE HUNT SECOND BANK BANDIT

TORONTO (BUP) — Police searched today for a silent, "rough-looking" bandit who escaped with $500 in Toronto's second bank holdup within a week.

They said he bore no resemblance to Arthur Aronson, the second suspect wanted for a $2,370 holdup in which a young bank clerk was shot and killed last week.

Only four of the 40 employees at the downtown Royal Bank branch realized a holdup was taking place, but they gave detectives a detailed description of the unmasked bandit.

Rainmaking Firm Challenges Authenticity of Ottawa Report

BRANDON (CP) — A rain-making firm said Tuesday a recent transport department report which claimed cloud seeding had caused a decrease in rainfall might be based on inconclusive findings.

W. L. McSorley, Canadian manager for Water Resources Development Corporation, a firm that has conducted cloud seeding programs on the prairies and in British Columbia for the last two years, said the report issued by W. L. Godson of Ottawa was based on weather observations for only some months of operating and almost ignored control areas set up by WRDC.

Manitoba was the first agricultural area to employ commercial cloud seeding in Canada. Its farmers adopted the plan in 1953 after considering the techniques success in producing rain for power and lumbering companies elsewhere.

Investigations are being carried on in the U.S. by a congressional committee which, Mr. McSorley said, indicated it has found cloud seeding produced up to 30 per cent more rainfall within a target area.

Time Now for Grooming Of Summer Perennials

The summer flowering perennials have been developing rapidly the last few days, and suddenly it is time to perform some grooming.

Some of the large varieties of peony, for instance, will produce more perfect specimen blooms if all side buds are rubbed off while still tiny. The delightful long lasting Japanese single kinds do not require this attention to the same extent.

Carnations should have the side buds pinched off to allow the main flower to develop. In the case of the spray types of border dianthus, the removal of the top (crown) bud will allow the others to develop evenly.

Erigeron (summer Michaelmas) will be improved by removing all the thin, weakly stems.

As the perennial aster (Michaelmas daisy) and the perennial phlox make their growth, it will be found well worth while to thin the stems to the stoutest. Sufficient new growth will always be made after the flowering season to ensure increase in size of plant for next year.

In perennial beds which have been in use, for more than a season, it is well to add some fertilizer to each plant, either in the form of a mulch of one of the new forms of treated peat moss, or a balanced fertilizer in powder form. These must, of course, be well watered in, or the food will not reach the feeding roots.

Especially in need of a feeding before and during flowering is pyrethrum (the so-called painted daisy) which is a gross feeder, soon exhausting the soil in which it grows.

Doronicum, the early flowering yellow daisy, should also receive fertilizer and a deep watering now that it is almost over, in order to build up the plant for next year's bloom.

Innocent Convict Gets $51,000 for Time in Jail much as 20th Century-Fox's "Violent Saturday."

As usual, it is the case of a solid story coupled with fine direction that elevates a picture from the "average" and "good" class into something that rests in a tidy, lofty niche of its own.
Credit for the story goes to Sydney Boehm. It is a slick, big-time story based on a bank robbery. This bank robbery is defined by town and name. Really it could be any one of the bank robberies we read about in the dailies.
BUT WHAT MAKES Boehm's story different to run-of-the-mine bank robbery film plots is that his breathes life. Very carefully, with absorbing detail, he gives you the robbers, their plan. Then, one by one, he produces those who are to become the innocent bystanders. One by one you watch them slowly moving, as though by fate, into the gathering maelstrom that will change their entire lives.

As the film reaches its climax there grows a feeling that you shouldn't be just sitting there, watching, waiting with bated breath. You feel as though you are watching a hold-up through a bank window. You want to shout and rant and yell for the cops.
Under the direction of Richard Fleischer the cast gives a surprising account of itself.

FOR INSTANCE, AS THE well-dressed, neatly pressed crooks, led by Stephen McNally and Lee Marvin, begin to assemble in a small Arizona mining town the camera (although you are never aware of it) picks up wealthy Richard Egan and his country club tramp wife Margaret Hayes trying to patch up their shattered life. In another sequence one catches bank manager Tommy Noonan window-peeping; librarian Sylvia Sydney discovering him at it and thus getting out of a tight squeeze—she had just stolen a purse.
One also catches a glimpse of the holy life led by Amish farmer Ernest Borgnine, his wife and family. It is from their lonely farm you know that the desperadoes intend to make their get-away.

IT IS BETTER TO DROP the plot for now ere we spoil it for you. It is enough to say that the denouement is brief, bitter and violent and almost wholly surrounds another innocent bystander, Victor Mature. It also gives Borgnine his best part since he played the hated knife-wielding Fatso Judson in "From Here to Eternity."
In conclusion: Let the TV sets rest an evening. If you enjoy this type of plot it is doubtful if you will find a much better film of its kind in 1955.

Michael J. Griffin, 941 View Street, has been elected treasurer of the Knights of Columbus in B.C. at the two-day 44th annual convention which ended Sunday in Kelowna.

AT ART GALLERY By GWLADYS DOWNES

Young Vancouver Artist Shows Versatile Talent
There are two exhibitions of outstanding merit at the Art Gallery, on display for three weeks. The young Vancouver artist whose work is featured, Donald Jarvis, has just had a canvas bought by the National Gallery in Ottawa for our permanent Canadian collection. It is easy to understand why, for Mr. Jarvis already is producing strong compositions characterized by an unmistakable, though almost indefinite, personal stamp.
Everything he sees, dead or alive, receives the imprint of this unifying imagination. Logs, dead shapes on a beach, become again a part of organic life as he paints them, while living trees and human beings are sometimes stylized to the point where they died a little as individuals, only to take on a different vitality as part of the artist's picture. There is, in Mr. Jarvis' best work, a fusion of the inorganic and the organic.
The exhibition shows that Mr. Jarvis is capable of expressing himself in a wide variety of idioms—everything from realism to cubism. One of his most successful accomplishments, which is obvious throughout all his work, is an adept use of color.
The sculpture reproductions sent around by a number of American museums and gal-eries to illustrate their collections are most interesting. To illustrate the scope of the exhibition, I can mention a dignified Egyptian scribe in black basalt, an equally dignified cat, a Greek centaur, a Chinese Bodhisattva, a small archaic striped terra-cotta ox, two Mediterranean statues of the pre-Greek era, Greek statues and heads, a variety of jewelry and some mediaeval carvings. It all looks, no matter what the material, surprisingly authentic, and I was glad to discover that the exhibits, as well as many others which may be seen in the museum catalogues, may be ordered for most reasonable prices.

Potatoes are more nutritious when cooked in their skins after being well scrubbed.

MOST PEOPLE think poetry is for the birds, yet the world is full of poetry... orators quote it to stir an audience to action... black men chant it on the levee... mothers sing it in the lullabies at bedtime... cheering sections throb with it... beating victory out of defeat. Poems influence decisions... listen to what a Mr. Gordon MacCraigh has to say:
"Yes, sure, a poem helped me make the greatest decision of my life. Not a great poem. Not literature. Not even art perhaps. But a poem that's known a damsite better than a whole lot of fine fine arty stuff... Kipling's 'On the Road to Mandalay'.
"Somewhere's East of Suez where the best is like the worst." A mighty heap of people know that better than anything else. "And there ain't no Ten Commandments & a man can raise a thirst." I was young when I read those lines... young in a blasted midwest town where the most exciting thing that ever happened was some farmer's cow having a calf. A youth in a state of prairie vastness... shackled with conventions heavy round my feet.
By the old Moulmein pagoda, lookin' lazy at the sea. Where the flyin' fishes play. I seed her asmokin' a white cheroot. Where the dawn comes up like thunder outa China 'cross the bay. Bloomin' idol made of mud, what they calls the great god Budd. Those lines were not just jingles... they were glamour, freedom, life. I had to go & see. I had to sit by that old Moulmein pagoda & look lazy at the sea. I had to see the dawn like thunder, to hear the paddles chunkin' & see the elephants 'pillin' teak. I HAD to go & see those things, or I would have died smack in the middle of a million acres of corn. So I DID go... & I sat by the old pagoda, and worked with the elephants 'piling tea. I did NOT see the dawn come up across the bay... 'cause at Moulmein... there ain't no bay.
And HOW did it affect my life.
I am now a writer of geographical articles & books of travel. The best thing I ever did was listen to the lilt of those verses & get out of that prairie prison to go look see the pictures a great man's poems conjured up.

Did YOU ever have a poem influence your life?? May we print it?? Send it to me... Maurice... thanks a Moulmeinlil.

Meat Sale By-Law Gets Study From Esquimalt

Request from the Union Board of Health for a by-law to prohibit sales of uninspected meat was referred by Esquimalt council Tuesday night to the municipal solicitor.

The draft by-law, prepared by the board, suggested penalties for infractions of not more than $100 plus costs.

At a meeting earlier this month board officials said 5 per cent of meat sold in the Victoria-Esquimalt area is not inspected. The board wants farm-to-kitchen meat sales banned.

A similar request for a by-law was made to the Victoria council.

60 on Swing Shift In Chemainus Mill

CHEMAINUS—Some 60 men are involved in the swing-shift operation that went into effect last week, Bert Schofield, president of sub-local 1-80, IWA, reported at a membership meeting.

A further number, approximately 70, are expected to swing today.

Plant committee will meet with officials of MacMillan & Bloedel Ltd., Chemainus division, in July, to discuss the possibility of including a further number of workers in the swing-shift program.

B.C. Labor Dept. Ignored Strike Says Unionist

VANCOUVER (CP)—A Vancouver union leader said Tuesday he was surprised the B.C. labor department took almost five months to get interested in a strike of 80 electricians at Burrard Drydock here.

Bert Adair, business agent of the striking Electrical Trades Union (C.L.), said A.R. Mosher, national president of the CCL, was asked last week by the labor department to get those in the dispute around the conference table.

The ETU members have been on strike since Jan. 13 to back up demands for a 15 per cent wage boost.

About 700 other shipyard workers accepted a five-cent an hour increase and are crossing picket lines to get to their jobs.

Devilish Tribe Tricks Ire Kansan City Fans

By GAYLE TALBOT

NEW YORK (AP)—The baseball fans of Kansas City, who led sheltered lives until recently, have been shocked to learn of the depths to which big league clubs will stoop to win games.

One of their number writes that "these methods seem outside the bounds of decency." What aroused him was an attached article by Ernie Mehl who as sports editor of the Kansas City Star had much to do with the transfer of the Athletics to that city.

Mehl recently interviewed the veteran Cleveland groundskeeper, Emil Bossard, who told in detail of the devilish tricks he employs to handicap visiting clubs.

"It's all part of the business," he assured Mehl. "We do a lot of things here in Cleveland calculated to help our club and make it a little tougher for the visitors. We work over the field every day according to who is pitching, what sort of speed the other team has and what kind of hitters they are."

SOFT FOR SINKERBALLER

Bossard explained, when sinkerballer Bob Lemon is due to pitch for the Indians, making it certain the opposing club will hit many balls on the ground. He leaves the infield nice and soft so that the Tribe defenders will have more time to reach grounders. When a set of speed boys comes to town, Emil has an antidote for them, too.

"Take the White Sox," he said. "They have a lot of luck running bases until they get here. I fix the dirt around first base so it's very loose. A player can't get a start for second base. You don't see those guys stealing many bases here."

A club comes in which does a lot of bunting. Okay, Emil can fix that.

"We just fix the slant of the baselines," he told Mehl. "We can make it so it's almost impossible to push a bunt down either baseline. The ball will roll foul sure as shootin'."

A disclosure such as Emil's can be jolting to folks who thought all groundskeepers rode about on white chargers. But managers have been instructing their head gardeners on matters other than how to plant grass for a long, long time. Emil merely happened to be the first one to come clean in public prints.

Canada's Olympic Ski Team Named

By GEORGE FRAJOK

Canadian Press Staff Writer
LAC BEAUPORT, Que. (CP)—The Canadian Amateur Ski Association has picked 11 skiers for Canada's 1956 Olympic team, including two brother acts and four members with recently broken legs.

The six men and five women who will represent Canada at the Winter Olympics Jan. 26-Feb. 5 at Cortina, Italy, were chosen at the closing session of the ski association's annual meeting in this scenic resort town near Quebec City.

Making up the men's alpine team, for downhill and slalom events, are 21-year-old Art Tommy, his brother Andy, 24, of Ottawa, and Andre Bertrand, 24, of Quebec. For the jumping and cross-country division, Clarence Servold, 25, and his 20-year-old brother, Irwin, from Amrose, Alta., and Jacques Charland of Trois-Rivieres, Que., were chosen.

On the women's side, the association picked an all-Quebec team from Quebec and Ontario. The team: Monique Langlais, 24, of Quebec; Gigi Seguin, 21, Quebec; Carlyn Kruger, 17, Montreal; Lucille Wheeler, 20, St. Jovite, Que.; and Ann Heggtveit, 17, Ottawa.

Title Fight Postponed

NEW YORK (AP)—The International Boxing Club started a hurried search today for a prestige fight to substitute for the indefinitely-postponed title bout between lightweight champion Jimmy Carter and Wallace "Bud" Smith.

The 15-rounder, scheduled for the Boston Garden and network television June 1, was called off Monday night by manager Willie Ketchum, who said the champion "is sick with a sore throat."

Chief U.S. Surgeon Backs Experimental Use of Dogs

WINNIPEG (CP)—Dr. Paul Hawley of Chicago, director of the American College of Surgeons, says it is better to sacrifice dogs for medical research than human beings.

He said in an interview that anti-vivisectionists almost everywhere have fought a losing battle against the public's "refusal to be swayed by a few crackpots."

"If we are to make any progress we must experiment and we can't do experimental work on humans."

Dr. Hawley is here to address a two-day sectional meeting of the college. About 200 doctors are attending.

Commenting on the argument over the fate of Winnipeg's stray dog population, he said anti-vivisectionists have "a very misguided idea that animals are treated cruelly" by medical experimenters.

Animals are given the same care as humans. When their usefulness is gone, they are "put to sleep as humanely as they are destroyed in the pounds," he said.

"It's just a matter of favoring a higher form of life over a lower."

Meanwhile, a mass protest is being organized by the Anti-Vivisectionists League, Winnipeg.

peg Humage Society and the Canadian Kennel Club against sending unclaimed dogs to the University of Manitoba for use in experimental surgery. The protest will be made at the city council meeting tonight.

Car Chase At 80 MPH

NEW WESTMINSTER (BUP)—

A vivid description of an 80-mile-an-hour chase through the streets of Burnaby highlighted testimony in the trial of bank robbery suspect John Wasylchuk which opened in assize court here Tuesday.

Testimony was given by telephone repairman F. L. Sharp who followed the get-away car after three armed men held up the MacKay and Kingsway branch of the Royal Bank of Canada in Burnaby and escaped with $27,500 Jan. 13.

Sharp followed the get-away car until it crashed. He saw three armed men flee on foot. However, Sharp and the 16 other witnesses called by crown prosecutor G. R. T. McQuarrie said they could not identify Wasylchuk as one of the three bandits.

The two other men in the robbery, John Bertelson and William Allan Babcock, have already received 20-year sentences.

Earlier Tuesday, Wasylchuk refused to plead on his right of counsel, but the court went ahead anyway.

The trial is expected to go to the jury late today or early Thursday.

She Took Parents' Advice to Heart

JOLIET, Ill. (UP)—Police found Jean Jeric, 2, wandering in a residential neighborhood and took her to headquarters when she refused to tell them her name.

"Why didn't you tell the policeman your name?" the girl's father asked when they were reunited.

"You taught me never to talk to strangers," she said.

Dakota Indian volunteered to become a parachute jumper in the 82nd Airborne Division here. His name: Pte. Broken Leg of Pine Ridge, S.D.

Congregations Impressed By Missionary

Dedicates Life To Ex-Captors

Congregations at two city churches last week-end were impressed with talks by a former American airman—now a missionary in Japan—whose life story would provide the raw material for a best-seller.

The man is Jacob DeShazer, who has returned to the United States for a year's study at a theological college in Japan. But he'll go back to Japan as soon as possible.

"I will devote my life to Japan," he pledged.

And these words came from a man who was tortured by the Japanese and held captive for more than three years during the Second World War.

Mr. DeShazer, however, holds no bitterness for the country because he found God in one of its prison camps.

He was a member of a desperate American bombing mission to Tokyo in 1942 led by General James Doolittle. Mr. DeShazer and his four-man crew were shot down along with most of the other planes in the attack. Two pilots were executed and others badly treated in prison.

But in that prison Mr. DeShazer's life was to change. He was given, among other things, a Bible to read.

"I read it through and decided to dedicate myself to God."

On his return to the United States, he attended a theological college in Seattle for three years.

He returned to Japan in 1945, his "heart of hatred changed to a heart of love."

He resolved to bring Christianity to a people which had mistreated himself and executed his fellow warriors.

A CENTURY OF SERVICE IN DEFENCE OF THE NATION

May 26 is the anniversary of The Royal Regiment of Artillery throughout the world. It is the "Gunners'" official birthday. This year on that date Canada's gunners celebrate the centenary of their organization under the Militia Act of 1855.

From a small, determined beginning in 1855 Canada's Artillery has grown to a fighting force with a magnificent reputation and a stirring battle record.

They served the guns at Ypres and the Somme; Monte Cassino and the Falaise Gap; in the bleak hills of Korea. The Royal Canadian Artillery commands the fearful respect of their enemies, the full admiration of their allies.

The Gunner's motto "Ubique"—"Everywhere"—is more than a word, it is a real attitude. Canadian Artillerymen have been, are now, and always will be ready to go everywhere to do their special job.

That special job is protecting our right to live the way we please.

Nanaimo City Council Defers Rezoning Bid

Nicol Street Residents Protest Proposal For Service Station in Middle of Block

NANAIMO—City council deferred rezoning of a Nicol Street property to May 30 after irate citizens protested the rezoning at a council meeting Tuesday night.

Problem under discussion was whether or not a gas station will be built in the 700 block on Nicol Street, the Trans-Canada Highway approach to the city from the south.

Town Planning Commission vetoed the scheme in support of Mayor George Muir, who promised nearby residents 18 months ago that a gas station would not be allowed on the property.

FACE BLANK WALL

Peter McCusker, spokesman for a delegation, said "we will be watching, you vote." He also suggested that when the mayor promised "no gas station" 18 months ago, he had the agreement of the residents to the highway approach. They now face a nine-foot concrete wall, he said.

Ald. William McGregor said "it's time we backed up our town planning commission," but Ald. Robert Fawdry said he had always supported the rezoning and would continue to do so.

GANGES—Divided opinion over the proposed building of a new hospital on Salt Spring Island was the basis of a controversial meeting of the Salt Spring Island Ratepayers' Association in Mahon Hall, Ganges.

The meeting went on record as strongly favoring a plebiscite to decide the money-by-law for the hospital as opposed to this decision being made at a general meeting. W. M. Mouat announced that the Gulf Island hospital improvement district has been gazetted and that R. Atkins has been appointed returning officer.

PROTEST PETITION

A resolution was passed that the water comptroller, after receiving a petition from supporters for the formation of a hospital improvement district, returned the petition for further signatures, notwithstanding the fact that the petition had been adjudicated by the returning officer duly appointed by the government. This was felt to be unconstitutional.

The fire marshal's report was read, indicating the charges that should be made in Lady Minto Gulf Islands Hospital in order to conform with safety standards. Chief among these changes urged were the widening of doors and staircases.

A vote of thanks was tendered T. F. Speed, who has retired as secretary of the hospital board. Annual meeting of the ratepayers' association will be held June 1 in Mahon Hall, when the herd law on Salt Spring Island will be discussed. T. Fowler presided.

Oak Bay MLA Scores Government Policies

By DOUG FORRESTER
(Times Sooke Correspondent)

SOOKE—Social Credit policy on the extension of the PGE, Sooke lack of consideration of a Legislature minority, and debt reduction policy of the government were criticized sharply by Archie Gibbs, MLA, at a meeting of the East Sooke and Metchosin Liberal Association.

Speaking on the controversial extension of the PGE from Vancouver north to Squamish, the Oak Bay member stated that at no time had the Coalition government recommended the completion of this link. Rather, he said, it had suggested that a highway enabling the trucking of freight be built. The cost of such a highway would have been considerably less than the railway now under construction, he said.

He said debt reductions have been made, but by means of the surpluses and sinking funds of the previous government. The device of pushing the burden of new debts on crown companies is mere figure juggling, and the fact that money is being borrowed at an unprecedented rate cannot be denied, he said.

In this regard Mr. Gibbs said that the $60,000,000 borrowing to finance the completion of the PGE will not be enough. At least $100,000,000 will be needed to finance this railway, he said, and it cannot possibly pay its own way while it is burdened with this debt.

Minority Ignored
"It has always been my belief," said Mr. Gibbs, "that the consideration of the minority viewpoint is essential to good government."
Premier Bennett was "intolerably rude" in the House with his practice of ostentatiously turning his back on opposition members while they were speaking and engaging in jocular conversation with those ministers around him, he said. While a certain amount of heckling is to be expected from both sides of the House, Mr.

SEMENICK STAYS DUMB; SHERBAN FREE

VANCOUVER (BUP)—Drug trafficker William (Silent Bill) Semenick's steadfast refusal to tell of an attempt on his life led to the dismissal of an attempted murder charge today against the second of two men charged with trying to kill him.

Magistrate Oscar Orr ordered police to free Eddie Sherban, 23, after Semenick again refused to testify against him in police court. Earlier, former semi-professional hockey player Joe Marcoux, 29, was freed when the magistrate dismissed a similar charge against him.

For Victoria to Vancouver Run?

Future of air transportation between Victoria and Vancouver may take form similar to newest Sikorsky helicopter, the S-56, pictured above. TCA plans to switch from conventional aircraft to helicopter-type by 1959 or 1960, but has not decided what type of "whirly-bird" will be used. The S-56 is now made only in a military version, which carries 26 fully-equipped marines, but commercially it would carry about 40 passengers. In the air above the S-56 is the smaller S-55, a 12-place helicopter, which, with pilot, co-pilot, a safe margin of fuel and mail, could carry only seven or eight passengers.

BRITISH DOCK STRIKE TIES UP 196 SHIPS

LONDON (UP)—A three-day dock strike affecting five British ports grew worse tonight as government officials negotiated desperately to avert a nationwide railway walk-out set for Saturday midnight.

A total of 196 ships, many carrying refrigerated or perishable food, were completely or partially tied up at the vital ports of London, Manchester, Liverpool, Hull and Birkenhead.

Meanwhile, there was no progress in government attempts to forestall a strike by 70,000 railway engineers and firemen.

Floods Tear 800-Ft. Gap

PORTAGE LA PRAIRIE, Man. (CP)—Floodwaters of the bulging Assiniboine River today continued to pour through an 800-foot gap of a south bank dike 10 miles east of here, and provincial government officials say nothing can be done immediately to halt it.

The floodwaters have swept overland, and Tuesday night were flowing into the headwaters of the La Salle River, which was threatening to flood the town of Elie, 13 miles south-east of Portage la Prairie.

In anticipation of serious flooding at the town of about 150 residents, 300 soldiers, on duty on dikes along the Assiniboine in the Poplar Point area, were sent to the new threat zone Tuesday afternoon. The soldiers and some 150 volunteers were going all-out today in an attempt to build up a 600-yard dike on the west side of Elie.

MAYOR'S VIEWS

Meanwhile, Mayor Claude Harrison said today there has been "a lot of unnecessary alarm" over the situation. He felt that tourist demand won't lessen, and the CPR will be forced to handle the extra business.

The mayor also claimed the federal government still "owes" Victoria a subsidized shipping service to the U.S. mainland, under the terms of confederation. "I can't foresee any difficulty in maintaining service for tourists," he added.

LOOK TO CPR

Citizens on both sides of the strait have expressed hopes the CPR can step up the frequency of its Victoria-Port Angeles service, but the company is already operating all its ships to the fullest extent during summer months. Princess Joan and Princess Elizabeth, which alternate to provide three round trips daily to Port Angeles, also serve as night steamers to Vancouver, and make two round trips daily Vancouver-Nanaimo. H. C. James, CPR general passenger agent, is in Seattle today on a regular business trip, and will meet H. G. Swenson, administrative assistant of Washington State Ferries. Mr. Swenson stated Tuesday all his company's ferries are committed for the summer.

TCA Official Says DC-3's to Remain In Interim Period

Helicopter service between Victoria and Vancouver in "four to five years" is the objective of Trans Canada Air Lines, Gordon M. Wood, TCA vice-president in charge of traffic and sales, said today.

In Victoria in the course of a tour of TCA divisions, Mr. Wood said the company plans to continue DC-3's on the run "until satisfactory helicopter-type aircraft is developed."

Then the present equipment will be replaced by helicopters, he said.

1959 OR 1960

"Our best guess is the change-over will take place in 1959 or 1960," he said.

Mr. Wood could not say whether helicopters or some type of "convertiplane" would be used.

"Our engineering staff is studying developments—a lot of things are coming thick and fast," he said.

The company has no idea as yet where the necessary heliports would be located, either here or in Vancouver.

"A downtown site is not necessarily the best site," he said. "It is a question of getting a site most convenient to the greatest number of travelers."

The Victoria-Vancouver route is a logical one for helicopters, Mr. Wood pointed out. The route is overwater; the aircraft would not need to fly over residential areas; and extreme speed is not a factor on such a short run.

BETTER SERVICE

Meanwhile, stepped-up frequency of the present DC-3 service is planned for next year. At present, three of these aircraft are assigned to the route—two in operation, one on standby or in maintenance checks. The "spare" plane can be pressed into service on busy days, such as the Victoria Day holiday, when 11 extra round trips were flown.

As of June 23, TCA will be flying 17 scheduled round trips daily to the B.C. mainland, two more than the winter schedule, Mr. Wood stated.

"We are convinced the present equipment is best suited for the job until we switch to helicopter-type aircraft," he said.

"If we ordered new conventional-type planes to replace the DC-3's, we're convinced they would be obsolete before they were delivered."

U.K. Voters Edge Toward Labor Camp

Final Poll Reveals Swing to Attlee But Eden Confident

(United Press Staff Correspondent)

LONDON (UP)—The staunchly Conservative Daily Express reported a drop in Conservative voting strength today on the eve of Thursday's parliamentary elections, but Prime Minister Anthony Eden said, "I think we shall win."

The Daily Express, published by former Conservative minister Lord Beaverbrook, reported a Conservative sag of one-half of one per cent since May 18. This coincided with Anglo-American differences over the Big Four talks and a strike crisis at home.

The newspaper poll still predicted a three per cent margin for the Conservatives, which would give them a majority of "between 90 and 95 seats" in the House of Commons. But it was recalled in the last election the Conservatives sagged sharply just before the vote and ended up with a working majority of only 18 seats.

JEER CAMPAIGN

Eden took notice of the drop when he said, "good intentions will not win the election for us—only votes can do that."

Both major parties, in a last-minute attempt to swing votes, sent out teams of especially trained hecklers to break up opposition meetings with jeers and embarrassing questions.

Conservative party headquarters admitted groups of young Tories had been given special training as hecklers in secret schools.

PRIME TARGET

Eden, speaking in the Midlands, was a prime target for rowdy Laborites who tried to break up his rally at Stockport and followed his motorcade for three miles in sound trucks calling, "Vote Labor tomorrow."

Cameron Lake Crash Takes Logger's Life

Donald Gagnon, 34, suffered fatal injuries Tuesday evening when his car struck Pipeline Bridge on the Alberni Highway, near Cameron Lake.

He died while being taken to West Coast General Hospital in Port Alberni.

Police said the accident occurred at about 5:30 p.m.

The dead man, a logger at Northwest Logging Co. Ltd., was single and made his home at Parkville. His parents live at Chilliwack.

Dr. C. A. Jamison, Port Alberni coroner, will announce an inquest date later.

Rear Admiral Arleigh A. (31-Knot) Burke was nominated today by President Eisenhower to succeed Admiral Robert B. Carney as U.S. chief of naval operations. Burke, 53, famous Second World War destroyer leader, jumped over 90 admirals, vice-admirals and rear admirals who outranked him in seniority.

U.S. Favors July 18-21 For Big Four Talks

PARIS (UP)—French Foreign Minister Antoine Pinay said today President Eisenhower has agreed that July 18 to July 21 should be the dates for the Big Four chiefs of government meeting with Russia.

Pinay said the West wants the talks held at Lausanne, Switzerland, but that the Russians are holding out for other sites, notably Vienna.

He said the site for the Big Four talks "at the summit" will be definitely chosen when the four foreign ministers meet at San Francisco from June 20 to June 26.

The city of Lausanne has made it known it is ready to welcome the conference and that it could take all the necessary security measures.

Pinay said U.S. Secretary of State John Foster Dulles consulted Mr. Eisenhower on the proposed date of the conference. He said Dulles then made it known to the French government that the United States would accept July 18-21.

He made the announcement at the end of a cabinet meeting.

This would mean that Mr. Eisenhower, Soviet Premier Nikolai S. Bulganin, French Premier Edgar Faure and Sir Anthony Eden or Clement Attlee—depending on the outcome of the British elections—would meet for three days only.

The summit meeting would be preceded by a four-power foreign ministers' conference to lay the groundwork, according to the terms of the invitation the big three sent to Russia earlier this month.

Liberals Confident In P.E.I.

CHARLOTTETOWN, P.E.I. (BUP)—Voters "trooped to the polls today to decide a straight two-party battle in Prince Edward Island's provincial general election."

Some 61,000 persons were eligible to vote in the Prince Edward Island election. The Liberals predicted a light turnout because of listless campaigning. The weatherman forecast scattered showers and temperature in the low 70's.

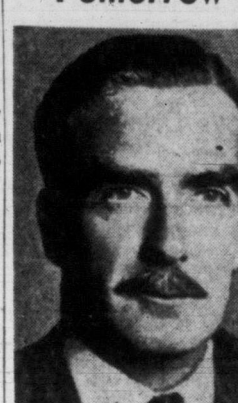

Premier A. W. Matheson, a 52-year-old lawyer, led the Liberal Party to the polls for the first time. He took office when the late Walter Jones was made a senator in May, 1953.

Observers said Matheson's party was a shoo-in. The Liberals captured 24 of the 30 seats in the legislature at the last election in 1951.

Sloan Probe Will Hear Gordon Gibson

Former MLA Gordon Gibson will be given a second opportunity to prove his charges that "money talks" in granting forest management licences Thursday before the Sloan forestry commission.

Mr. Gibson was scheduled to arrive in Victoria today, and will appear before Chief Justice Gordon Sloan at Thursday's sitting of the commission.

The burly ex-logger quit his Squamish seat in the Legislature after refusing to testify before a special commission called to investigate his charges, headed by Judge Arthur Lord, in March.

He was the first MLA in B.C. history to be "named" out of the House, for failure to obey a Speaker's ruling to withdraw his charges against the government's forest administration.

Beauty Queen Must Reduce To Get Here

MANCHESTER, Eng. (CP)—A former beauty queen who once held the title "Goddess of Plenty" says she has been told to lose weight if she wants to emigrate to Canada.

Ethel Maude, 47, says she was ordered by a Canadian immigration officer in Liverpool to shed 14 of her 178 pounds. All prospective immigrants to Canada must pass a health examination.

Five feet seven inches tall, Miss Maude measures 42, 34, 44. She is due to sail for Canada in five days.

Miss Maude said: "I did not win 26 beauty contests for being skinny. I was the Marilyn Monroe of my day."

Two in Ontario Win Fortunes In Irish Sweep

Luck Runs Out
For B.C. Holders

(BUP and CP Dispatches)

A prosperous Niagara Falls realtor and a Windsor, Ont., brewery executive were Canada's big jackpot winners in today's Irish Sweepstakes based on the Derby at Epsom Downs.

Murray Ruta, 37, who operates a thriving real estate business in the Honeymoon City, and Fred Smith, 46, a district sales manager for O'Keefe's brewery in Windsor, won $140,000 each with their tickets on Derby winner Phil Drake.

Ruta was calm when, told of his good luck, but Smith exclaimed that "I'm falling apart at the seams."

VICTORIANS GET $1,640

Two Victorians had starters in the race and will receive approximately $1,640 each. They are Mrs. Cora Robb, 1165 Fort Street, and Duncan McBride, 59 Cook Street. Both their horses failed to place.

Three other Victorians will draw $500 each consolation money.

"I thought they were just kidding when some of the boys came in and told me I was a winner," Smith said this morning at Windsor. "I've been walking around in a daze ever since."

Smith said he phoned home to inform his wife of his winnings. She "laughed sort of hysterical-like."

"I figure I had better go home and see that she doesn't tear down the curtains," he added.

COLLEGE FOR SIX

Smith has six children, the oldest 14. He said he would use the tax-free windfall to put them through college.

Ruta, married with no children, said he probably would put the money into his business. He laughed at any idea of retirement. He is a veteran of Second World War and started the business when the war ended.

WON $56,000 APIECE

Two other Canadians won $56,000 on second place Panaslipper, and two Toronto ticket holders earned $28,000 on the show horse, the favored Acropolis.

"Betty Storey" of Dryden, Ont., and "W.W.W." of Millville, N.B., held tickets on Panaslipper. The Torontonians with tickets on Acropolis were identified as Mrs. Minnie Horne and J. Reed.

Altogether, the six lucky Canadians won approximately $448,000.

MINOR PRIZES FOR B.C.

Six B.C. residents who drew horses will get about $1,640 each.

One B.C. ticket on an also-ran, Our Babu, was held by a seven-year-old boy, son of Lawrence George Halcro, 30, "cat" operator at 100 Mile House in the Cariboo. Mrs. Halcro bought the ticket for the boy.

L. E. Jones of New Westminster held a ticket on Magnum.

ARMY-NAVY WINNERS

Winners in a Quebec Army and Navy sweepstakes based on the same race were Marcel Lapointe of Jonquiere, Que., who held a ticket on Phil Drake; M. J. Kirk, Toronto, with a ticket on Panaslipper; and T. H. Gray, Hamilton, with a ticket on Acropolis.

First place in the Quebec sweep was won by $26,000; second, $16,000, and third, $10,000.

Use of Lash in Canada Prisons Scheduled for Parliament Debate

By VICTOR J. MACKIE
Times Ottawa Correspondent
OTTAWA—The question of whether corporal punishment—punishment through the strap or lash—is to be continued in Canada will be debated during the next session of Parliament, it was learned here today.

The joint-committee on capital or corporal punishment will begin soon drafting its recommendations after lengthy hearings of witnesses. It is not expected there will be time at the present session for detailed discussions of changes in the existing law.

Whether or not the committee will recommend abolition of capital punishment remains to be seen. The consensus of opinion here is that capital punishment—execution—will be retained in Canadian law. But the method of execution has been under close study. Some members of the committee favor doing away with hanging and substituting the electrical chair or gas chamber, others favor retaining hanging.

However, punishment by the lash—corporal punishment—has been termed ineffective by a majority of the witnesses heard by the committee. It may also be influenced by the United Kingdom decision, after extensive studies some years ago, to abandon use of the strap and lash.

TORIES CONFIDENT OF WIN IN BRITISH ELECTION

FINAL BULLETINS

More Bus Cuts Likely for Vancouver

VANCOUVER (CP)—The B.C. Electric Company warned today that more cuts may come in the frequency of bus service on some lines here during evening hours because of the declining number of passengers.

Union and the company said the increase in the number of cars, competition from motorists who carry paid passengers and television, are cutting deeply into bus travel.

RCMP Will Cost Some B.C. Cities More

VANCOUVER (CP)—Cost of providing RCMP coverage will double for more than a score of British Columbia cities and districts under a new federal government plan, it was learned today.

A similar number of smaller cities and districts will have police costs boosted by about 25 per cent.

It is part of a Canada-wide movement by the federal government to cut its subsidy from 60 per cent of the cost per man to 25 and 50 per cent.

Labor Minister Predicts More Jobs

MONTREAL (CP)—Labor Minister Gregg said today there are increasing signs of recovery in Canada and he forecast thriving employment in most sectors of the country for the coming year.

A marked improvement in employment can be expected in coming months, he said, although not all unemployment problems will disappear.

Canadian Soldier Flees to East Germany

BERLIN (Reuters)—A Canadian soldier, Ralph Bernard Frederick Cross, appealed for political asylum in East Germany on May 11, which was granted, the Communist East German news agency ADN said tonight.

The agency did not give Cross' rank or unit, but only his army number, SM No. 18435.

Skeleton at Vancouver Identified

VANCOUVER (CP)—A skeleton found by boys at the foot of a cliff here last week has been identified as that of William McKibbin, 61, who vanished from his home in August, 1947 after suffering a nervous breakdown. His widow, now living in Osoyoos, identified scraps of clothing found with the bones.

Share-Cost Relief Formula Sought in New Ottawa Study

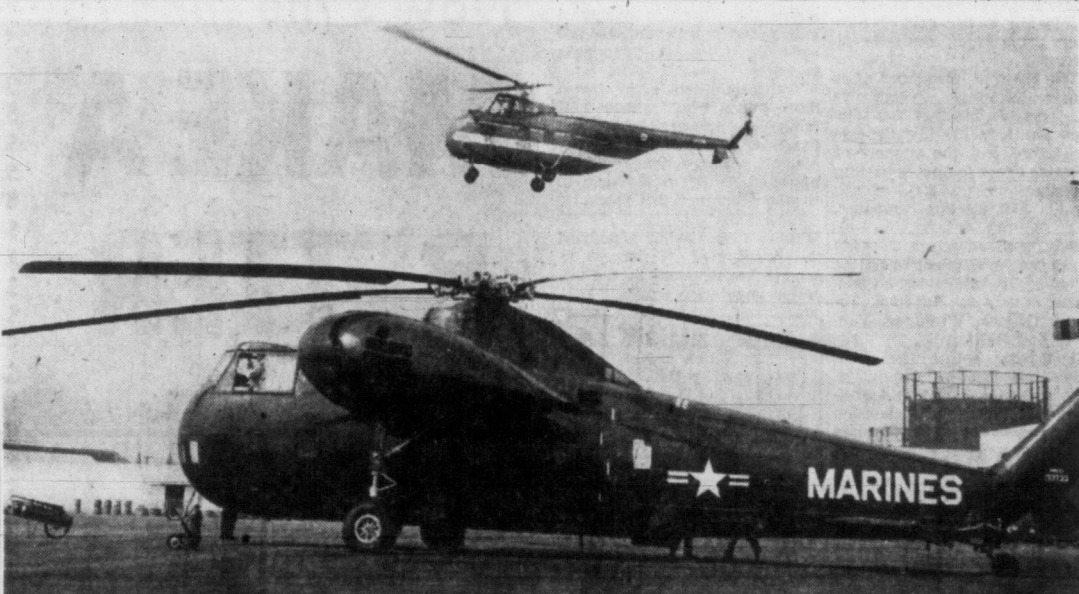

SPECIAL TO THE TIMES
OTTAWA—Federal and provincial government officials will begin gathering here Thursday to lay the groundwork for development of a federal-provincial formula for sharing the cost of unemployment relief.

Labor and welfare officials will attend meetings for the remainder of the week, in an effort to develop some order out of the huge accumulation of statistics on unemployment which has poured into Ottawa in recent weeks from the provincial capitals.

Starting next Monday, deputy finance ministers from the provinces will assemble in Ottawa to seek agreement on recommendations to be made to a meeting of provincial government ministers next month.

For Victoria to Vancouver Run?

Future of air transportation between Victoria and Vancouver may take form similar to newest Sikorsky helicopter, the S-56, pictured above. TCA plans to switch from conventional aircraft to helicopter-type by 1959 or 1960, but has not decided what type of "whirly-bird" will be used. The S-56 is now made only in a military version, which carries 26 fully-equipped marines, but commercially it would carry about 40 passengers. In the air above the S-56 is the smaller S-55, a 12-place helicopter, which, with pilot, co-pilot, a safe margin of fuel and mail, could carry only seven or eight passengers.

BRITISH DOCK STRIKE TIES UP 196 SHIPS

LONDON (UP)—A three-day dock strike affecting five British ports grew worse tonight as government officials negotiated desperately to avert a nationwide railway walk-out set for Saturday midnight.

A total of 196 ships, many carrying refrigerated or perishable food, were completely or partially tied up at the vital ports of London, Manchester, Liverpool, Hull and Birkenhead.

Meanwhile, there was no progress in government attempts to forestall a strike by 70,000 railway engineers and firemen.

Cameron Lake Sloan Probe Crash Takes Logger's Life

Donald Gagnon, 34, suffered fatal injuries Tuesday evening when his car struck Pipeline Bridge on the Alberni Highway, near Cameron Lake.

He died while being taken to West Coast General Hospital in Port Alberni.

Police said the accident occurred at about 5:30 p.m.

The dead man, a logger at Northwest Bay Logging Co. Ltd., was single and made his home at Parkville. His parents live at Chilliwack.

Dr. C. A. Jamison, Port Alberni coroner, will announce an inquest date later.

Final Poll Reveals Swing Toward Labor

(United Press Staff Correspondent)
LONDON (UP)—The staunchly Conservative Daily Express reported a drop in Conservative voting strength today on the eve of Thursday's parliamentary elections, but Prime Minister Anthony Eden said, "I think we shall win."

The Daily Express, published by former Conservative minister Lord Beaverbrook, reported a Conservative sag of one-half of one per cent since May 18. This coincided with Anglo-American differences over the Big Four talks and a strike crisis at home.

The newspaper poll still predicted a three per cent margin for the Conservatives, which would give them a majority of "between 90 and 95 seats" in the House of Commons. But it was recalled in the last election the Conservatives sagged sharply just before the vote and ended up with a working majority of only 18 seats.

JEER CAMPAIGN
Eden took notice of the drop when he said, "good intentions will not win the election for us—only votes can do that."

Both major parties, in a last-minute attempt to swing votes, sent out teams of especially trained hecklers to break up opposition meetings with jeers and embarrassing questions.

Conservative party headquarters admitted groups of young Tories had been given special training as hecklers in secret schools.

PRIME TARGET
Eden, speaking in the Midlands, was a prime target for roving Laborites who tried to break up his rally at Stockport and followed his motorcade for three miles in sound trucks calling, "Vote Labor tomorrow... vote Labor tomorrow."

VICTORIANS GET $1,640
Two Victorians had starters in the race and will receive approximately $1,640 each. They are Mrs. Cora Robb, 1165 Fort Street, and Duncan McBride, 59 Cook Street. Both their horses failed to place.

Three other Victorians will draw $280 each consolation money.

"I thought they were just kidding when some of the boys came in and told me I was a winner," Smith said this morning at Windsor. "I've been in at Windsor. I've been in at Windsor."

Meeting Thursday On Boat Service Cut

Port Angeles Representative Here
For Talk With Chamber of Commerce

Port Angeles and Victoria businessmen will meet here Thursday to discuss the problem of ferry service across Juan de Fuca Strait, on the route vacated by Black Ball Line.

On both sides of the water, news of the cessation of service was greeted with consternation.

So far, no concrete suggestions for a solution have been advanced.

Port Angeles Chamber of Commerce met this morning and decided to "wait and see" if Washington State Ferries or the CPR could offer service before taking action.

Dr. J. L. MacFadden, who represents the Port Angeles district in the Washington State Legislature, will arrive here Thursday morning to discuss the problem with Chamber of Commerce officials, and attempt to plot a course of action.

MAYOR'S VIEWS
Meanwhile, Mayor Claude Harrison said today there has been "a lot of unnecessary alarm" over the situation. He felt that tourist demand won't lessen, and the CPR will be forced to handle the extra business.

The mayor also claimed the federal government still "owes" Victoria a subsidized shipping service to the U.S. mainland, under the terms of confederation. "I can't foresee any difficulty in maintaining service for tourists," he added.

LOOK TO CPR
Citizens on both sides of the strait have expressed hopes the CPR can step up the frequency of its Victoria-Port Angeles service, but the company is already operating all its ships to the fullest extent during summer months. Princess Joan and Princess Elizabeth, which alternate to provide three round trips daily to Port Angeles, also serve as night steamers to Vancouver, and make two round trips daily Vancouver-Nanaimo.

H. C. James, CPR general passenger agent, is in Seattle today on a regular business trip, and will meet H. G. Swenson, administrative assistant of Washington State Ferries. Mr. Swenson stated Tuesday all his company's ferries are committed for the summer.

SEMENICK STAYS DUMB; SHERBAN FREE
VANCOUVER (BUP)—Drug traffickers William (Silent Bill) Semenick's steadfast refusal to tell of an attempt on his life led to the dismissal of an attempted murder charge today against the second of two men charged with trying to kill him.

Magistrate Oscar Orr ordered police to free Eddie Sherban, 23, after Semenick again refused to testify against him in police court.

Earlier, former semi-professional hockey player Joe Marcoux, 29, was freed when the magistrate dismissed a similar charge against him.
